U. S. Target of Soviets, Cuba At U.N. Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union and Cuba were ready to hit the United States hard today in the U.N. Security Council for sending troops into the Dominican Republic. The United States was ready to hit right back.

The council was meeting at the request of Soviet chief delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, who accused the United States of interference in the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic.

U. S. Contention
U.S. Chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson was expected to repeat to U.S. contention that it had sent in troops and Marines to rescue foreign residents from a civil war. Stevenson also was expected to add President Johnson's latest explanation that the U.S. goal was to save the Dominican Republic from Communist conspirators.

Stevenson wanted the council to dispose of the Soviet complaint in one meeting and leave any action to the Organization of American States.

Cuban chief delegate Fernando Alvarez Tabio sought permission to speak as an interested non-member of the council.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa sent Secretary-General U Thant a note Friday accusing the United States of planning "total occupation" of the Dominican Republic on the "false pretext" of safeguarding U.S. citizens.

Security Council
He said this action could not be ignored by the Security Council and General Assembly and asked Thant to see that "competent organs" of the United Nations condemned it.

Thant flew back Sunday night from a trip to Vienna and Geneva.

Thant, returning three days early, told newsmen in Geneva he believed the OAS could play a "very useful role" in a "very serious" situation in the Dominican Republic. But he added: "I very much hope the Security Council will be able to adopt a resolution which will contribute toward a peaceful solution."

The United States took the view that the council should not adopt a resolution because the OAS had already adopted one and had sent a five-nation peace-making committee to the Dominican Republic.

State Department was informed of information reaching the Salvadorian Embassy here that the villages of Santo Tomas and San Marcos had been hit by the shock.

Injuries were reported in those villages together with damage to buildings but the Salvadorian Embassy report did not speak of fatalities.

Manuel Monterosa, first secretary said the embassy had received a report from the operator of a private radio station in San Salvador that the damage was not severe.

The report said that some houses were destroyed in the Santo Tomas and San Marcos suburbs of San Salvador but there were no deaths.

The tremors are continuing, the report said.

Congo Bomb's Toll
Has Risen to Seven

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The death toll in Saturday night's Leopoldville bombings has risen to seven, with as many as 55 people injured.

Three open air bars in the native quarter of the city were the targets of what officials believe were hand grenades. Police have been maintaining roadblocks around the city since the bombings and several persons have been arrested.

Capitol Dome Jarred by Quake

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — The earthquake which jarred the Pacific Northwest last week shook up the 15,300-ton dome on Washington's state Capitol, but the lid stayed put.

It was the second beating from an earthquake for the massive concrete, stone and steel structure. It took its first in the temblor of April 13, 1949.

That quake loosened the 180-ton cupola — or birdcage — atop the dome, threatening to send the stone missile plunging down through the Capitol rotunda.

First Army Combat Units in Area

3,500 American Paratroopers Arrive Today in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The advance unit for 3,500 American paratroopers arrived in Saigon today. The balance of the three airborne battalions was expected within a few days.

The paratroopers are the first U.S. Army combat ground unit assigned to Viet Nam. U.S. and Vietnamese officials said they would "increase security at key installations and press the war more effectively."

Sixty men were in the advance unit. U.S. officials declined on security grounds to say when the main force would arrive. But they said they would be stationed at Bien Hoa, a big air base 12 miles northeast of Saigon, and at two other locations.

The new arrivals comprise most of the 173rd Airborne Brigade stationed on Okinawa.

U.S. officials said the airborne contingent would bring the total U.S. strength in South Viet Nam to around 36,000 men. There already are 8,500 U.S. combat Marines in South Viet Nam.

Commanded by Brig. Gen. Ellis W. Williamson, the airborne contingent includes two infantry battalions, one artillery battalion and the equivalent of one battalion of various support units.

Defensive Rolls
Stationed in defensive roles, a U.S. spokesman said, the American paratroopers "will free Vietnamese combat troops for offensive operations."

U.S. officials announced that three new Army helicopter companies of 280 men and 25 helicopters arrived over the weekend. There are now 12 Army helicopter companies in Viet Nam, two Marine squadrons and several Vietnamese squadrons.

After being idled Saturday by unfavorable weather, U.S. jets resumed air strikes Sunday against Communist North Viet Nam.

Jets Blast Railroad
U.S. Navy jets blasted a railroad siding and three boxcars 100 miles south of Hanoi. Groundfire was light and all the planes returned to their carrier.

Other American aircraft bombed suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, including a heavy attack on a Communist-infested zone north of Saigon.

A U.S. official said there were no air raids over North Viet Nam today, presumably because of bad weather.

United States Asks Arms Aid Of Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States asked today that Latin-American nations "that are capable of doing so" make their armed forces available in keeping the peace in the Dominican Republic.

The request was made in a resolution drafted for submission to the Organization of American States.

Earlier, at closed meetings of the General Committee of the OAS Conference on Consultation the United States had proposed that countries able to do so make available army, navy or air force units to assist U.S. forces in maintaining a nine-square mile neutrality zone in the strike-torn capital city of Santo Domingo.

4,500 More Troops Being Rushed to Caribbean Isle; Total Force Now 14,000

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States began rushing another 4,500 troops to the Dominican Republic today after President Johnson said the rebel uprising had been taken over by Communist conspirators directed from abroad.

The President's declaration that a military buildup was necessary for security on the Caribbean island, came as rebel fighters made a new attack Sunday night on U.S. troops despite the declared cease-fire.

Rebels hurled grenades at American positions and hammered away with fire from automatic weapons. The outburst lasted about an hour.

American Casualties
No new casualties were reported on the American side. It was uncertain whether answering fire by U.S. forces caught any of the rebels.

The Defense Department in Washington has reported two Marines and two paratroopers killed, and 21 Marines and 21 paratroopers wounded since American forces began landing last Wednesday.

Addition of the 4,500 fighting men ordered in by the President will bring the total of U.S. Marines and Army men to 14,000.

Rebel groups broke the cease-fire after American units took over the front lines from weary troops loyal to the new military junta.

Dominican Gen. Jesus de los Santos said his forces were pulled back because they were exhausted after a week of skirmishes.

The rebels charged the American troops actually were moving in on them slowly.

Impartial Attitude
A U.S. spokesman said American forces were maintaining a strictly impartial attitude. He said they are safeguarding an international zone of refuge and in that sense they are in the "front line."

U.S. Marines held positions to the west of the rebel stronghold. They moved into the strong-points from their original positions at the seaside Embajador Hotel and a neighboring polo

Court Rules Secretary Can Bar Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the secretary of state has the constitutional power to bar American citizens from traveling to Cuba.

Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the 6-3 decision. There were three separate dissents.

Said Warren for the majority: "The questions for decision are whether the secretary of state is statutorily authorized to refuse to validate the passports of U.S. citizens for travel to Cuba, and, if he is, whether the exercise of that authority is constitutionally permissible."

"We answer both questions in the affirmative."

The court ruled on an appeal by Louis Zemel, a Middlefield, Conn., ski resort operator. He wanted to go to Cuba, he said, to become a better informed citizen.

The State Department refused permission for the trip under a travel ban imposed in January 1961. Zemel sued, but a special U.S. District Court in New Haven ruled against him in a 2-1 vote.

Long Period of Tension Ended Cambodia Has Broken Relations With U. S.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The national radio announced today Cambodia has decided to break diplomatic relations with the United States.

The radio said Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the chief of state, reported his decision to the Cambodian people in an official message. Contents of the message were not immediately available.

Foreign Minister Koun Wick received the U.S. charge d'affaires to announce the decision, the broadcast said. It was added, however, that a consulate-general could be established at Phnom Penh if the U.S. government so desires.

No Reasons

No reasons were announced for the break. However, relations between Cambodia and the United States long have been tenuous, chiefly because of raids along the border with South Viet Nam. Cambodia blames the attacks on U.S.-Vietnamese forces. Saigon charges Viet Cong guerrillas use Cambodia as a refuge.

Embassy Attacked

Hostile feelings also were aroused in Phnom Penh by a reference in the magazine

Newsweek to the Queen of Cambodia.

The U.S. Embassy in Phnom Penh, attacked twice in the past year, has maintained only a skeleton staff since 1963.

At one time during the frontier troubles, the United States urged that United Nations observers be posted at various points along the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border, but Sihanouk's government rejected the idea.

The United States and Cambodia held talks in New Delhi, India last December in an effort to improve relations, but reached no agreement.

Darboy Road Project Rapped By Residents

Question Accuracy Of Map, Grades At Public Hearing

SHERMOOD—Objections to the proposed curb and gutter project on County Trunk KK in Darboy were voiced by Town of Harrison property owners at a public hearing here April 27.

The hearing was called to authorize the $125 per lineal foot special assessment against benefiting property owners and to award damages. There were no objections on the assessment and damage issues, however, the accuracy of the map, grade level and culvert work were questioned.

Various other objections not directly related to the curb and gutter costs were expressed. Included were the legality of the petition for the project and if it would be practical should the area form a sanitary district.

The project, which would cost the nine property owners a total of $2,740 with assessments ranging from $82.50 to $767.50, pertains to property on the south side of County Trunk KK from the intersection with County Trunk N and continuing west about 3.212 feet.

$154,313 Project
Cost of the entire project is $154,313. Half would be financed by federal funds and Calumet and Outagamie counties and the towns of Harrison and Buchanan would share equally in the balance.

Harrison voters approved $5,925 for storm sewers in connection with the project at its annual meeting last month. No action on the part of the property owners threatened the project in October because a petition by more than half the property owners had not been filed. Later a petition with five signers was filed with the clerk.

No action was taken at the hearing. The map was returned to the Calumet County Highway Commission for checking. The board will inspect the area with the highway department.

Cushing Tells Nuns Marches Not Their Place

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing has told about 1,000 Sisters of Notre Dame that the nuns place is in the classroom—not marching in street demonstrations.

Cardinal Cushing made no reference to Southern civil rights demonstrations in which nuns took part.

The cardinal, in his second public appearance since undergoing surgery last February, took part Sunday in dedication of a statue of blessed Julie Billiart, French founder of the Sisters of Notre Dame order.

He urged the nuns to do their part toward canonization of blessed Julie "and by that I don't mean carrying placards. I don't think you'll find in the story of Julie Billiart's life where she went out on the highways and byways."

Integration Heads For Chicago Suburb

Housing Drive Scheduled for Summer in Plush North Shore

BY SEYMOUR H. HERSH
CHICAGO (AP)—The integration drive is moving to Chicago's North Shore, a plush suburban area along Lake Michigan where few Negroes live.

Integration leaders said today they will begin an intensive housing drive next month, with the aid of 50 volunteer college students, white and Negro.

The program is built along the lines of last year's Mississippi Project, says its executive director, William Moyer 31.

"Our assumption is that the Northern suburbs are closed communities just like the South is a closed society," Moyer said.

The summer project's main targets are the more than 100 members of the Evanston North Shore Real Estate Association which serves 325,000 residents in the 11 suburb North Shore area.

The program has the backing of the American Friends Service Committee, and local church and civil rights groups, Moyer said.

Serve Equally
"We're asking the real estate operators to serve all the people who come into their door equally," Moyer said. "We're asking them to call and show houses without mentioning religion or race."

Last year, he said, five Negro families moved into the North Shore and none was placed by a real estate agent.

S. J. O'Connell, president of the real estate board, says his group "is in the middle" of the controversy.

"We're only agents," O'Connell said. "We don't make policy. Real estate agents are hired by people who want to sell their homes to act on their behalf and carry out their wishes."

The students who will undergo a week's tutoring in the non-violence technique will interview persons who have homes for sale. They will try to persuade them to list the homes with real estate firms on a non-discriminatory basis.

Get Students
Interviewing will begin in June and continue through the summer, says Sally Olds 31 of Glenview, a project committee member.

We're trying to get as many students as possible from the North Shore, Mrs. Olds said. This is going to be a local movement, a grass roots movement.

Most of the Negro students will come from Chicago and will board with suburban families for the summer, she said.

We don't feel that we can support the civil rights movement in the South until we face our problems here, said Mrs. Olds, wife of a broadcasting executive.

If realtors refuse to sell to Negroes, project plans call for sit-in or stand-in demonstrations in the realtors' offices.

"We're going to see if demonstrations can work in the North, too," says the Rev. Emory G. Davis, a Negro clergyman.

Realtor O'Connell says that agents have a right to choose who we want to do business with.

"If a principal were working with wants to sell to Negroes, sure we'll sell."

"On the other hand, if they don't want to sell to Negroes, we won't either."

Mrs. and Mrs. Jeremiah Floyd, a Negro couple, say they have been trying to buy a North Shore home for nearly two years.

"All you get now is a polite reception but no action," says Floyd 33, a school teacher.

NEW LONDON — Funeral services for Dr. John Nugent, 67, who died Saturday at Rochester, Minn., will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Most Precious Blood Catholic Church with burial in the parish cemetery.

Dr. Nugent was an optometrist and watchmaker here. He served as grand knight of the Father Herb Knights of Columbus Council, a member of the parish Holy Name Society, past American Legion commander, past Rotary Club president, member of the American Optical Association and a World I veteran.

Survivors include his widow, a daughter, one son, a brother and a sister.

Friends may call at the Cline and Hanson Funeral Home after 2 p.m. today. Military graveside rites will be conducted.

Well-Armed Men Entrenched in Capital Dominican Rebels Want Peace; Not on Someone Else's Terms

EDITOR'S NOTE — Associated Press Writer Louis Uchitelle was one of few foreign correspondents able to get into the heart of the rebel stronghold in Santo Domingo. His story follows.

BY LOUIS UCHITELLE
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Though thousands of well-armed young men are entrenched in the heart of the Dominican capital, they want peace, they say, but not on someone else's terms. They talk of the rightness of their cause, which they describe as the return of exiled former President Juan D. Bosch and the 1963 constitution. They say the people are with them. And they do not appear afraid of the 5,000 U.S. troops ranged on two sides of their downtown stronghold.

Boyle in Viet Nam Saigon Traffic Too Bad Even for Guerrillas

BY HAL BOYLE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In war-torn South Viet Nam, you may take your life in your hands if you venture far outside Saigon. But if you do much walking inside Saigon, you take your life in your feet. There is no such thing as an innocent bystander here. Particularly if he is a pedestrian he is fair game for all and the only time he isn't in danger of being run down is during the curfew hours between 2 and 4 a.m. If he is abroad then he is only in danger of being shot by the police. It is said that one reason the besieging Viet Cong haven't taken Saigon is that after reaching the outskirts of the city they decided it would be hopeless to try to fight their way through the traffic. Traffic Famous Saigon traffic is famous throughout the Far East. It starts early in the morning and totem pole is the cyclo driver who wears a conical hat and operates a pedal taxi resembling a bike pushing a wheel chair. The cyclo drivers are widely suspected of including many garded as Europe's wildest secret enemy Viet Cong agents steersmen. But in Saigon, ev — a reasonable assumption, as everybody drives as if he were a saint into a Communist home in a $100,000 handicap. From this social basement race your prestige rises with the quality of your wheels. It goes up from the cyclist to the motorcyclist to the cab owner to the man who owns his car or sissies even better is driven by a government chauffeur. Drive Like Jockeys The cabbies of Paris are re-except for a three-hour siesta break, continues until it gets too dark to see a pedestrian. If you strike one and are found at fault you must pay his hospital or funeral costs. Rules of the road prohibit a motorist from pursuing the pedestrian across sidewalks or into public buildings. "Actually you rarely see a pedestrian or bicyclist badly injured," remarked a motorist who has won an unsafe driver's badge with three oak leaf clusters. "The main idea is merely to brush him out of the way with your bumper." The traffic here is picturesque as well as impossible. The streets are a rolling museum of the history of wheeled vehicles. Status On Wheels Your status depends on whether you own your vehicle, what kind of wheels it has and how much it cost. At the bottom of the social against us. Please explain this to your country." (In Washington, U.S. officials have identified 58 Castroite and Communist Dominicans as active in the fighting or in propaganda and organizational work among the rebels.) The rebels claim that they have 18,000 armed civilians and soldiers including women, although no women were seen on the streets during this brief visit. One of the rebel leaders said that they can hold out indefinitely but that they are willing to negotiate a settlement. Only a few buildings have been damaged by rockets and machine gun fire and one or two destroyed in the downtown area.

Americans Hear Pope On 1st Live Telecast Via the 'Early Bird'
NEW YORK (AP) — Pope Paul VI spoke to the American people live on television for the first time today via the Early Bird communications satellite and commented on the "astounding inventions" of science which made the telecast possible. Speaking in English from the Apostolic Palace the pontiff appeared on the NBC TV 'Today' show. The 160-word transatlantic greeting to Americans came via the 85-pound cylindrical satellite which has been in orbit since last April 6.

Stiff Contest Shapes For YGOP Chairman
WISCONSIN RAPIDS (AP) — The possibility of a stiff contest for the state chairmanship of the Wisconsin Young Republicans loomed Saturday as the group opened its convention with a record 500 delegates expected. Contenders for the top spot are Gerald Menzel, 31, of Wisconsin Rapids and James Staples, 29, of East Troy. Staples has the support of delegates considered more conservative. Menzel has backing from retiring chairman Donald Taylor of Waukesha while first vice chairman Peter Kohler of Kohler is supporting Staples. The election will be held today.

Colorful Pebble Jar Makes Useful Ornament for Desk

BY CAPPY DICK

A pebble jar, if carefully made, can be a colorful ornament to place on your desk or dresser.

It consists of a plain glass jar, the inside walls of which are covered with small, colorful pebbles you have set in place with fast-drying household glue used for mending chinaware.

A pair of tweezers will be useful in setting the pebbles in place (Figure 1). Use as little glue as possible to avoid smears that could mar the appearance of the completed project.

In preparation for this undertaking, collect as many pebbles of various colors as possible.
Separate the colors, then create a design when you glue them in place. Various designs are suggested in Figure 3.

Because the pebbles are glued to the wall of the jar, the center will be empty as shown in
looking down into the jar from the top.

When the pebbles have been glued in place, put the cover on the jar. If you want to use it as a paperweight, fill it with sand to make it heavy.

Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apos-

American Comedian Receives 'Red Carpet' Treatment on Trip to French Capital

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Long starved for recognition of his comic talent, Jerry Lewis finally had his feast this month. But he had to go to Paris to have it.

For some time now, the comic had been hearing rumors that he had been embraced by intellectuals of France and England. But he didn't realize the extent of his acceptance until he flew to the French capital for location scenes of "Boeing Boeing" with Tony Curtis.

Lewis

He was mobbed at the airport, then at a news conference. He was interviewed in reverent tones by Paris film critics. The summit of Jerry's happiness was reached when the critics presented him with an award for best direction because of "The Nutty Professor."

"It is hard to express what I felt," says Jerry, whose eyes get misty as he thinks about it. "This was the greatest satisfaction I have ever known in my career. The whole visit to Paris was unbelievable. I was walking 11 feet off the ground most of the time."

To realize his joy you must understand the complicated character that is Jerry Lewis. Like all comedians, he needs desperately to be accepted. Despite his 16 years of toil in motion pictures, during which he has been virtually the sole full-time comic star, he has found acceptance only from the public.

"I'd like to hear the eulogies before I'm dead," he said wistfully. "I won't do me any good to have George Jessel say it at the funeral."

Makes a Friend
That point was driven home to Jerry on his meeting with Pierre Eteix, a French comedian and film maker he was raving about. Jerry saw the Frenchman's new film, "The Yo-Yo," and admits that he was "overcome with envy."

The French comedian's first question through the interpreter was: "Have you ever poured your heart and soul into your work, struggling to perfect every line of dialogue, every piece of action — and then find that you are denied the recognition you feel you deserve?"

Jerry smiled knowingly. By the end of the evening he and Eteix were soulmates. The Frenchman, who has lately

Miss Kansas, Three Others Die in Crash

EMPORIA Kan. (AP) — The reigning Miss Kansas, her mother and two other persons were killed Sunday in a highway accident nine miles east of Emporia.

The dead: Margene Savage, 20, of Florence, the Miss Kansas of 1964; her mother, Marguerite Savage, 47; James Kaminski, 45, of Emporia, and his wife, Gloria 43.

Injured seriously were Ray Blasche 60, of Emporia, and his wife, Dora.

The Kaminskis were riding in the Blasche car.

Miss Savage was in a convertible driven by her mother. John Ramsey of the highway patrol said Mrs. Savage was unable to stop when another car made a left turn off U.S. 50 in front of her.

Mrs. Savage's car ran off a shoulder and skidded head-on into the Blasche car.

Miss Savage, a Kansas State university student, was to reign until a new Miss Kansas is chosen this summer in the annual pageant at Pratt.

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 2)—Town Meeting of the World employs the new Early Bird satellite for this tape of today's earlier transatlantic discussion of the Viet Nam crisis by Western diplomats. In London will be Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, and Michael Stewart. From Paris will be Maurice Schumann. From New York is former Sen. Barry Goldwater.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11)—Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea, with its atomic sub, Seaview, is faced with an old problem: flying saucers. Repeat

7-8 Channel 4-5)—The Man From U.N.C.L.E. gives Anne Francis a chance to take over the world. Believe it or not, in "The Quadrilateral Affair," she is the femme fatale of all time as her billionaire boy friend (John van Dreelen) buys her an army and huge amounts of fear gas for the job. Repeat

7:30-8 (Channel 2)—It's still carnival time on The Andy Griffith Show. Our sheriff, who closed down a crooked shooting gallery last week, shutters a harem dancer's show over the protests of wiggling Sylvia Lewis and smirking Herbie Faye.

7:30-8 (Channel 11)—Sue Anne Langdon plays one of those glamor puss film stars, who bills herself as "The Velvet Wiggle," on No Time For Sergeants.

8-9 (Channel 4-5)—Lorne Greene's American West is not a bit like the Bonanza star's Ponderosa. In this scenic special there is not a mean hombre in sight, just lush views of the land west of the Mississippi, north of the Rio Grande, plus songs and tales of its people who Lorne says, "Grow bigger and better and worse every year." (COLOR)

8-9 (Channel 11)—Melina Mercouri's Greece would have been more fitting if it were called, Greece's Melina Mercouri. In this handsome special, by the producers who presented tours of London by Elizabeth Taylor and Rome by Sophia Loren, the Greek actress displays as much of her varied acting talents as she does her country. (COLOR)

9-10 (Channel 11)—"Did Your Mother Come From Ireland?" on Ben Casey is one of those sticky episodes concerning a lovable, but irritating "professional Irishman," who believes in leprechauns and thinks he is 1,482 years old. He doesn't appear to be a bit worried that he may die from a brain tumor.

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—The Alfred Hitchcock Hour has an episode, "Night Fever," which is reminiscent of some of The Doctors and Nurses outings. Coleen Dewhurst plays a tough, but brittle nurse, who is constantly being needed by gunman Tom Simcox to aid him in a plan to escape from his hospital prison bed.

Faulty Valve Prevents Proper Heart Function

Yes, I have. Methotrexate has helped (but not cured) some patients who have been plagued by severe psoriasis over large parts of their bodies.

It is a very powerful drug, has to be used with great respect, and isn't — at the present stage of knowledge about it — to be considered for use when (as so often is the case) a patient has only some small patches of psoriasis.

Psoriasis is a nuisance but not a dangerous. Sometimes it goes away for no apparent reason. Sometimes it subsides when one or another of the various treatments is being used — at which point the patient may think that he knows the cure for psoriasis.

My advice to the average person with psoriasis is to have a doctor or skin specialist prescribe something to subdue the scaliness and itching (when it becomes bothersome) and otherwise to ignore it and hope that it will subside spontaneously some day.

Participation 'Antidote for Apathy'

Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, Appleton, spoke about the road to political appointments at the "Antidote for Apathy" program.

BY SENA GRAY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Almost 200 women from all over Wisconsin came together Saturday at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, to learn and discuss a common interest — politics. More importantly, women in politics.

"Antidote for Apathy" was purposed with the purpose of discussing "techniques," important no matter to which political party a person belongs. Practical experiences were shared with audience by experts and the experienced. The event was held at the Wisconsin Center.

Felt Discrimination

After the 9:30 a.m. welcome by Mrs. Alfred Wilds, president of the League of Women Voters of Madison, case histories from the "Voice of Experience" were given by Mrs. Robert Stillings, former Appleton alderman; Mrs. Howard Sandin, president of the Ashland school board, and Mrs. William S. Lord, former legislator in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Stillings pointed out that she felt women were definitely discriminated against in politics. "City councils have been usually considered exclusive men's clubs," she told the audience, composed of many League, AAUW, YWCA, and Republican or Democratic party members. She reviewed her campaign methods and years on Appleton's city council.

"Women in politics must be ready to take criticism and nervous tension," Mrs. Stillings instructed the group.

Non-Partisan Election

As the mother of seven children, Mrs. Howard Sandin, Ashland, said she has "put 15 years in PTA and still has 11 years to go." She has been a school board member for four and one-half years, serving as president for three of those years. In discussing her campaign she said "Ashland has a gentlemen's agreement that no one campaigns. This is a real handicap, especially if you are a newcomer and anyone not born in the city is considered a newcomer." So to become known to the electorate, she decided to speak every chance she had, even if it was to publicize a forthcoming bloodmobile visit. She felt the League of Women Voters candidates meetings were invaluable.

Rules for Women

She said a woman in politics must be well-informed; not too aggressive; not expect extra consideration because she is a woman; look at all sides of the questions; be ladylike; be authoritative and know what she's talking about, and be patient because reforms aren't accomplished overnight.

Mrs. William Lord is presently an E. B. Fred Fellow at the University of Wisconsin engaged in graduate work in counseling. Before coming to Madison last year she was dean of women and director of guidance at New England College, Henniker, N. H. She was a member of the legislative body of New Hampshire from 1957 to 1962.

Mrs. Lord faced opposition only once during her campaigns for the legislature. She advocated house-to-house campaigning as one of the most effective methods. "If you are bright in politics and informed you have an unbeatable combination," Mrs. Lord said. She finds political party support essential. "One may count on the party for manpower and support."

During the question period, the women were asked who opposed them most because they were women. Mrs. Sandin felt she had no opposition on this point and that it possibly was in her favor. Mrs. Lord said, "My political

Waiting to Register is Mrs. Robert Stillings. A former Appleton alderman, Mrs. Stillings was also on the program.

Methodists Tell Plans for Program

Mothers and daughters of the First Methodist Church will attend a dinner at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the church's Fellowship Hall. The annual event is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Story of Moose Activities to be Shown in Film

Women of the Moose and all members of the Loyal Order of the Moose have been invited to see a film at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The program will be held at Moose Hall.

"Yours Fraternally" is the title of the film and it features the child city at Mooseheart, Ill., and the city for retired at Moosehaven, Fla.

Refreshments are planned after the meeting. Mrs. Chester Lewis is chairman.

The "Buttons and Bows" theme will be carried out in decorations and programs. The Mothers' Club has had charge of decorations. Mrs. Duane Babel is program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ned Galloway.

A fashion show is planned after dinner with mothers and daughters modeling handmade clothes and hats. Mrs. William Hale wrote the script, to be read by Mrs. William Dykema.

A group of girls will sing special music.

The dinner will be prepared by the Men's Club of the church, with Mel Hemmen as chairman.

CCC Club Has Pre-May Day Frolic

Spring was welcomed by the CCC Club of the First Congregational Church at a pre-May Day Frolic Thursday evening. Dinner was served and games played. Walter Brown, a magician, performed.

Serving as chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoecherl. The committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Erik Madisen and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Dunaway.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Graham Waring and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson had charge of the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Edison Pope and Mr. and Mrs. James Warner, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker, reservations, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Behl, publicity.

gain a political appointment and that women are confronted with invisible barricades along these roads.

Politics is the important word, she pointed out. Even locally, the mayor's appointments will reflect the groups that supported him. Political appointments are necessary to the governor's office, she said. It would be unrealistic for him not to appoint those sympathetic to him. She noted the Civil War Centennial Commission and Commission on the Status of Women as exceptions.

Political appointive offices are usually limited locally, but interested women would be able to secure a list of these from the mayor. Appleton has 30 such offices, she stated. There are 346 appointments open to Governor Warren Knowles. Ninety-five women are presently serving on committees or boards in the state.

She enumerated ways these appointments are made locally and state-wide. Mrs. McIntyre also conducted a survey of 12 women who either have or have had at sometime a political appointment. These women were questioned as to how they indicated interest in gaining the appointments; if they were members of a political party or contributed to a party; if they had a profession or experience that would warrant these appointments, and what they could contribute because they were women.

Clue for Action

One man told Mrs. McIntyre he had never thought of appointing women. She stressed that "this may be a clue."

After the noon luncheon at the Wisconsin Center, a panel discussed "Winning an Election." Serving as moderator was Mrs. Donald Clusen, Green Bay, state president of the League of Women Voters. The group was composed of Mrs. Norris Krohn, Oshkosh, vice-chairman of the Republican Party; Mrs. William Cherkasky, Appleton, vice-chairman of the Democratic Party, and Mrs. George Eitenheim, Milwaukee, recipient of the 1964 Milwaukee Sentinel "Skiing Politics" award. Mrs. Eitenheim received the award for her work on the non-partisan Milwaukee Planning Commission.

The women pointed out the most important factors in winning an election as getting the most votes, time, money, good candidates, knowing the issues and being able to discuss them, having the tide running with you and securing as much exposure as you can.

Mrs. Krohn said the ideal women in politics should "look like a girl, act like a lady, talk like a man and work like a dog!"

Campaigning Discussed

The panel members told their views on organizing a campaign; the kinds of campaigning and the use of the family in a campaign.

The final panel for the day was composed of three people who had or are campaigning for a cause. Serving as chairman was Mrs. Harry Hamilton, Madison. Mrs. Hamilton has served two terms on the Governor's Commission on Human Rights and is currently on the Governor's Committee on Children and Youth. She is also a teacher-coordinator of general education at Madison's Vocational, Technical and Adult School.

Members of this panel included Mrs. Henry Lardy, legislative chairman of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters. In this office, she reads and studies every bill introduced in the state legislature, testifies at hearings and edits a bi-weekly newsletter on current legislation. She is one of two women on the Gold Ribbon Committee to study state and local government.

Another panelist, Mrs. James B. MacDonald, is secretary of the Mayor's Commission on Human Rights and was instrumental in the passage of Madison's Equal Opportunities ordinance last year.

Jay Sykes, a reporter at the Milwaukee Sentinel, told the group of the series of articles he authored last year about county reapportionment. He helped initiate the lawsuit that led to the landmark Wisconsin Supreme Court "one man—one vote" decision concerning the reapportionment of county boards.

The summary and challenge to action was given by Mrs. Alf Gundersen, LaCrosse, a former member of the Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of the United States.

CURLY HEADS

It's out with the beehive and in with the curly girl culture through spring and into summer. This is the word from the world's leading hair stylists. Women of all ages now seem more interested in curls, but done softly, no tight ringlets. The revival of curls seems in part a rebellion against all the teasing and ratting of the past few years. It created a full, free framing arrangement although combined into straightness. You can still maintain the fullness with the way the curls are now done. There isn't any reason why you have to wear an outdated hairdo. Let us arrange a styling for you. Opening lead — A Q

"My partner is a coward," the average declarer thinks as he stares at the dummy. "He should jump to four notrump instead of bidding three clubs. We'd get to seven notrump instead of just six. Will I tell him off!"

While declarer is planning what to say when the hand is over, the hand is over. Declarer wins the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades and leads the deuce of diamonds, and that is the end. South is down one.

South has to switch speeches. Instead of saying that the odds were 7 to 1 in favor of a grand slam, he must complain about the horrible breaks in both of the key suits.

Safety Play
An expert would not waste his time planning a denunciation of his partner. "What can go wrong?" the expert wonders, as he plans the play. "Can I make sure of five diamond tricks even against the worst possible break?"

"If all five diamonds are at my left, I'm all right if I begin the diamonds by leading a low card toward dummy. If West takes his jack, dummy gets the ten later. If West plays low, the ten wins a trick immediately."

"If all five diamonds are at my right, dummy's ten loses to the jack. But later I can lead the other diamond from dummy and take a finesse with the eight."

So the expert wins the first trick with the king of spades and leads a low diamond at the second trick. Maybe the secret is that the expert thinks about the hand instead of what he will say to his partner.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one club, you respond one diamond and he bids one spade. It is again up to you, holding: S Q J 10 7 H Q 10 4 D J 9 7 6 5 C 6.

Answer: Bid two spades. Game is unlikely, but possible. In any case, you can afford this mild raise. Partner should not seek game unless he has a very good hand.

14-Year-Old Shows Mature Attitude Toward Neighbor

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: The man who lives next door has always been unpleasant and hard to get along with. We have tried to be friendly but nothing we did for him was ever acknowledged.

This neighbor has a large dog and a lot of people are afraid of him. Yesterday the dog came onto our property, broke into the pigeon cage and killed every one of my son's beautiful birds. The boy was heartbroken. He loved those birds and had bought them with money earned doing odd jobs. (The boy is 14.) The neighbor was cold and hostile when he was told the dog had killed the pigeons.

We asked our son what action he wanted us to take against the neighbor. He answered, "We should go to church and pray for him. Anyone who has that much meanness in his heart must be miserable."

We are proud of our son and hope we can keep him thinking that way until he is a grown man.

Now we are asking your advice. Should we take some legal action against the neighbor? — Other Check

Dear Other Check: Your son is extraordinary and you have every right to be enormously proud of him. And,

Vacation of Alley For Nursing Home Denied in Appleton

Plan Unit's Decision Halts Building of Proposed Facility

Vacation of an alley on the city's northeast side was denied by the plan commission today and halted plans of investors to build a nursing home in that area.

Clyde Stephenson, representing himself and Eau Claire developers, petitioned the city to vacate the alley east of Drew Street between Longview Drive and Northland Avenue.

The commission was unanimous in voting down the vacation request, also opposed by the alderman in the ward, Ald. Orville Strutz (17th).

Those proposing the nursing home reportedly need the alley property to carry out their building plans.

Permit Denied
Building Inspector Charles Magnette previously denied the developers a building permit, citing the site was located in an area zoned for residential.

City Atty. Frederick E. Froelich said it would not be a non-profit operation so the home did not fall into the category of local hospitals. He suggested the council could change the zoning law or developers petition for a rezoning.

The key to the plan commission's objection to the nursing home was that its construction would require vacation of an alley.

A St. Paul, Minn. firm which started construction of a 100-bed nursing home on the southeast side last week, is building in a residential area but did not require any street or alley vacation.

Special Case
The city's planning consultants suggested each request for a nursing home be considered as a special case within the zoning district. "Nursing homes are generally put in a special use section when it comes to zoning," commented Jack Alston, a St. Louis planner.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues, who resides in the area, said he opposed the nursing home being built in the subdivision because it required an alley vacation and was putting the city in the position of "being used by realtors and developers."

"They bring the subdivisions into the city and then start revising them with every project that comes up," Bue declared, "I don't think it right to be changing the classification everytime a different project is proposed."

Change Noted
He said since the subdivision came into the city and had its various zoning areas spelled out, one alley has already been vacated, there has been a rezoning, and another matter on a parking lot went to the board of appeals and resulted in a court action.

Bues also told the commission vacating the alley would make one block in the area 1,300 long. "I think the city would just be asking for problems," he said.

The commission also:—Received a report from Bues that the engineering division has completed a survey of the Lutz Park shoreline.

—Withheld action on purchasing Wisconsin Avenue properties for off-street parking until receiving the recommendation of the city parking commission.

—Approved widening of the east side of S. Willkie St. between Verbrick and Fosters Streets after Aid. Harold Hanemann (10th) appeared and said the present 30-foot width was not adequate.

—Delayed action on the annexation of the old Outagamie County Airport property.

Union Objects to Insurance Plan Recommendation

Teamsters Local 563 has objected to a recent recommendation made by the city's personnel committee concerning municipal employee insurance coverage.

Robert W. Schlieve, the union's secretary-treasurer, has written Mayor Clarence Mitchell that the insurance was to be a negotiable item between the city and union.

Recently, the committee recommended acceptance of the low bid of Washington National Insurance Co., which provided the most coverage for the least cost, along with making recommendations on holiday pay.

"The committee's resolution to the council is an abrogation of this agreement (settlement of 1964 wage dispute) since at no time has this matter ever been discussed or agreed upon with the union," Schlieve said.

Schlieve warned that any further unilateral action in the areas of collective bargaining would necessitate action on the part of the union.

Reject Arbitration In Plumbers Strike

Union Turns Down Contractors' Request for Impartial Council

The strike of union plumbers to call in an outsider and have no objections to bargaining in good faith.

The industrial relations council was established sometime ago by the National Association of Plumbing Contractors, Mechanical Contractors of America and the Plumbers and Steamfitters International Union to consider disputes involving wages, hours and working conditions.

The makeup of the council is four representatives of management and four of the union international.

"We are willing to submit our dispute to the council and have a third outside party that knows something about the industry, consider the facts in this dispute," the Central Valley spokesman said.

'Local Matter'
The answer came today in the form of a statement by Roland Choudoir, business representative for Local 458, who said:

"The dispute over a 1965 contract is strictly a local matter between the contractors and Local 458. We see no need

Fought Communism

Sen. McCarthy Praised In Graveside Ceremony

The late Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Appleton, who died eight years ago, was praised at his graveside by radio commentator Bob Siegrist of Madison, at special memorial services Sunday at St. Mary's Cemetery. More than 100 persons attended.

Siegrist outlined McCarthy's fights against Communism and criticized those who "are loose in our land, who, like ghouls, continue to reach across this grave with their continuing smears against him."

A motorcade from Milwaukee arrived at the cemetery about 2 p.m., leading a group which has called itself the "Friends of Sen. McCarthy." The group makes an annual pilgrimage to the gravesite.

'Those Who Scoffed'
Siegrist said "those who scoffed at McCarthy have only to look to Viet Nam, where, as McCarthy feared, American men fight, bleed and die even as we speak."

He said "those who found it more convenient to scoff at his warning that many in the nation's academic community were laboring to convert young minds to that force or revolution... have but to look at such campuses as that of the University of Wisconsin."

The radio commentator briefly outlined his fight against alleged Communist influences on the campus. He said the proportions of "a national scandal which even such liberal organs as the New York Times and the Saturday Evening Post have found themselves compelled to act this morning when led to note."

Mrs. Wisneski gave no reason for the act this morning when led to note."

Appleton police said Mrs. Patricia A. Wisneski, 19, route 1, Menasha, was slightly injured and received first aid after she stepped from the moving car on S. Oneida Street Sunday.

Decries Judge's Action in Suit Involving Ambulance Service

A recommendation was made to the Appleton Council today to appeal a recent zoning decision handed down by County Judge Gustave Keller against the city.

The action was taken by the plan commission which criticized the court's dismissal of a zoning violation charge against Larry's Ambulance Service, labeling it "dangerous and precedent-setting."

Lawrence J. Seidl has been using the premises at 116 S. Weimar St., in a single family-zoned district, for operating his ambulance service. In December of 1963 Seidl received notice from the city he was operating in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Seidl hired an attorney and fought the action after the plan commission indicated it would not rezone the property from single family. Counsel for Seidl contended, and the court agreed, that former building inspector Walter Bogan was aware of the ambulance operation when he granted Seidl a three-vehicle garage building permit in 1956.

City Atty. Frederick E. Froelich tried the case for the city and will handle the appeal, should the council concur in the commission's recommendation. The warning that the court's action in dismissing the city's case against Seidl was "dangerous and could be harmful in the future" came from Commissioner Raymond LeVe.

Appeal Advocated

City Planner Walter Rasmussen advocated an appeal to the circuit court, commenting, "There is another side of the coin which I think was overlooked in this case."

However, Public Works Director Robert W. Bues questioned whether the city should pursue the Seidl case any further without correcting other zoning violations which he claimed were evident in the city.

"I think uniform enforcement is needed," Bues declared, "We are constantly putting new ordinances on the books but don't have enough people to enforce them."

The council is in the process of organizing a department of inspections.

Airline Wants To be Party In Court Case

North Central Files Request in Appeal Made by Outagamie

Special to The Post-Crescent
CHICAGO — North Central Airlines has filed a request with the 7th District U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here to be made a party in the case involving Outagamie County and the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB).

The court last week granted an Outagamie County request for a stay order which prevents North Central from going ahead with plans to suspend service to the Outagamie County Airport.

The CAB had granted the airline's request to suspend service at Appleton when the county closes its old airport.

However, the court's ruling of last week has been interpreted by most officials concerned with the case to mean that North Central must serve the Fox Cities at the new Outagamie airport in the Town of Greenville. Today's request, according to Elmer Oja, deputy clerk of the Chicago court, merely is to have the airline made a party to case. Oja said the airline hasn't filed a petition for reconsideration or for a clarification of last week's court order.

Menasha Town Ends Pact for Sewer Service

Officials Object to $900 Rate Increase By City of Appleton

Relations between the City of Appleton and Town of Menasha have broken off as far as operation of sanitary sewer district No. 2 is concerned.

Town officials wrote the city they no longer want Appleton services and plan to seek another source for sewage disposal.

"The relationship between the parties has always been on a cordial and friendly basis and there is no dissatisfaction found with the method in which the city and sanitary district have operated in the past," town officials wrote the city.

Bringing the matter of city services being provided the one section of the township to a head was Appleton's boost in the rate of handling disposal. Town officials objected to a $900 a year increase.

Cites Reasons

In serving notice on the city, the town cited that:

—During the past months Appleton had indicated it does not desire to extend its services beyond its limits (unless annexations are involved).

—Because of the city's feeling, District No. 2 commissioners decided to contract with district No. 4 in the Town of Menasha to handle its sewage treatment.

—District No. 2 officials felt it was time for the Town of Menasha to provide its residents with all services needed rather than become dependent on adjoining municipalities for help.

However, the commissioners of District No. 2 indicated they to solve any mutual problems that will result in the termination of the present contract.

Peace Conference Opens in Yemen

KHAMIR, Yemen (AP) — A Badr, the ousted king whose Middle East peace conference was under way today in this primitive village with none of the usual trappings of modern diplomacy.

There were no chairs, no electricity, no stenographers, and no hotels. Turbaned tribesmen danced in the streets with daggers in their hands.

But the attention of Yemen and other Arab countries was focused on Khamir, 55 miles north of the Yemeni capital of Sanaa. Hundreds of tribesmen and tribal leaders met here to discuss ways of ending the civil war that has plagued Yemen for 2 1/2 years.

Regime Support Most of the delegates were sheikhs supporting the regime of President Abdullah Al Sallal. Officials said some sheikhs loyal to Imam Mohammed Al

The conference is not expected to bring peace to Yemen, but it may lay the groundwork for a settlement. Over the weekend, Khamir prepared for the conference. Tank trucks began carrying water into the village. Cargos of tinned food, fruit juice and American soft drinks were unloaded in the central square. Four hundred cars and trucks brought the delegates from various parts of Yemen. They were parked in a field on the edge of town.

The delegates searched desperately for places to sleep. Cabinet ministers carried their suitcases on their shoulders up the mud brick staircase of an old house. Some delegates slept in trucks. Khamir was selected because it lies in the northern zone where much of the fighting has taken place. It is the center of the powerful Hashid tribes who support the idea of a peace conference.

As the delegates talked by the light of kerosene lamps, tribesmen beat on goatskin drums, sang chants and danced, twirling their curved knives. A curfew put a stop to the festivities two hours after sunset.

Saves Brothers, Dies Trying to Rescue Others ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy, who escorted his three brothers from a flaming two-story house early today, died with two children when he returned to the house to assist them.

Private Pilots Pose Major Problem of Drunken Flying

BY HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal aviation officials fear they may have a bigger drunken flying problem among private pilots than they ever suspected.

The basis for this concern, a House Appropriations subcommittee was told, were the findings of some 50 autopsies conducted on crash victims.

"To our great surprise, there has come out of these autopsies a much more serious drunk flying problem than we understood there to be before," said Najeeb E. Halaby, in testimony March 2 before he resigned as Federal Aviation Agency administrator. The testimony has just been made public.

Halaby stressed that he was talking about private pilots, not airline pilots.

Not on Airlines "The problem on air carriers, as far as we can ascertain, does not exist. The airline pilots do not drink," he said.

For the past several years, he explained, there have been about 500 fatal crashes each year killing 900 to 950 persons in general aviation.

"We thought that the average pilot, with the amount of experience he had had and the respect he had for the elements, just would not drink before flying," said Halaby. "We now find that one-third of the sampling we have taken of these fatal accidents in the year 1963 were probably under the influence of alcohol."

What to Do What to do about it? Halaby said: "The airplane does not know whether the driver of the airplane is drunk or sober. We cannot build into the airplane a sobering device or an overcontrol that will take over when the pilot is being a damned fool."

He said the agency was considering some tougher regulations. The FAA, he said, now has a rule against pilots flying under the influence of alcohol. But, he added, it is considering a rule to prohibit any pilot from going up within eight hours after consuming any alcohol.

He also discussed the hope that education would be of some help. He said a lot of people think that "you can have a couple of drinks without affecting your ability to fly."

"In fact," he added, "there is a legend in the flying world that one or two drinks might make you a better flier. Of course, that was cultivated in World War I, and it is absolutely not so."

Yeggs Trick Priest, Take $500 Collection NEW YORK (AP) — A 74-year-old Brooklyn priest was tricked into admitting two men to the rectory and then was robbed of his church's $500 Sunday collection.

Msr. Del Fiorentino Dante of St. Lucy's Roman Catholic church told police the two men told him they had a gift for another priest.

When he let them in, they unwrapped their package, pulled out a saved-off shotgun and pointed it at him, he said. Besides the day's collection, the gunmen took $30 from the monsignor's pockets.

Fire Damages Seat of Parked Automobile KIMBERLY — Fire of undetermined origin damaged the front seat of an automobile owned by Lester Erdman, 122 S. Weimer St., Appleton, about 2 a.m. Sunday as it was parked on Main Street.

The fire was noted by a policeman on patrol and volunteer firemen had to remove the seat to extinguish the blaze.

14 Railroad Cars Are Derailed at Camp Douglas

CAMP DOUGLAS (AP) — Fourteen cars of an eastbound Milwaukee Road freight train were derailed at Camp Douglas today. There were no injuries.

Two of the cars crashed into the Camp Douglas passenger-freight depot, causing heavy damage.

The derailment blocked the Milwaukee road tracks and adjacent tracks of a Chicago and North Western Railway freight line.

Cause of the derailment was not immediately determined. Crews and equipment were sent from La Crosse and Milwaukee to clear the tracks.

Stolen Car Recovered, Electric Saw Missing A car reported stolen Saturday night owned by Harvey Knitsel, 1802 S. Lawe St., was recovered some hours later by Calumet County police in a ditch at Lakewood and Manitowoc Road.

The owner said an electric saw in the back seat was missing from the car. The car had been taken from a parking lot on W. Wisconsin Avenue.

Mrs. Mikulecky found Alice's body in the garage after she failed to keep an appointment with her downtown Saturday morning.

Police End Galveston 'Splash Day'

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Thousands of youths reveling in an unofficial Splash Day in this island city were driven from two beaches Sunday by officers armed with clubs, shotguns, rifles and tear gas.

Men from the Galveston police force, the sheriff's office and the Texas Rangers cleared the East and Stewart Beach areas in less than an hour, ending an unofficial celebration that began Friday when boys and girls from nine states started streaming into this Gulf of Mexico resort center.

No injuries were reported during the clearing operation, but 53 persons were treated and released at Galveston hospitals during the three-day period.

Galveston Police Chief W. J. Barnes ordered the beaches cleared when several girls complained they had been robbed and stripped of their bathing suits on East Beach.

In years past, Galveston has had an official Splash Day to mark the opening of the beach season. The annual celebration was discontinued after several years in which officers had trouble maintaining order.

Officers estimated that the crowd on the beaches Sunday numbered between 25,000 and 30,000.

About 350 charges were filed between Friday midnight and 6 p.m. Sunday, police said. Most of the charges were for drinking by minors, drinking during prohibited hours on Sunday, disturbing the peace and littering of beaches.

Appleton Fire Crews Kept Busy With Five Sunday Spring Alarms Appleton firemen had an active Sunday, answering five complaints, two of them grass fires.

Grass fires were reported along River Front Court near Locust Street and on a hillside in Bellaire Park. Causes are unknown.

Firemen were also called to the Pierce Auto Body Shop, 315 S. Pierce St., where a trailer load of wood was smoldering and to the Jefferson School where nearby residents were alarmed at smoke coming from a chimney. Firemen said the smoke was harmless.

Early Sunday morning firemen extinguished a mattress fire which had been tossed from the upper floor apartment at the Whistle Inn, 812 S. Oneida St.

The apartment resident noticed the burning mattress about 4 a.m., and threw it out the window, then called firemen.

Boy, 13, Admits Killing Sister ELLSWORTH, Kan. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy, hunted down by a posse Sunday, has admitted stabbing his younger sister to death during a fight over a game of hide-and-seek at their home in Wilson, Kan.

A Kansas Bureau of Investigation agent said Roger Mikulecky told how he drove a steak knife into the back of Alice Lynn Mikulecky, 10, Saturday morning.

County Atty. C. R. Miller is expected to take the boy into juvenile court to determine how to handle the case.

Mrs. Mikulecky found Alice's body in the garage after she failed to keep an appointment with her downtown Saturday morning.

News-Record Ruled Not Independent

OSHKOSH —The Twin City News-Record today was ruled by Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane not to be a separate and independent newspaper serving the communities of Neenah-Menasha, "but is in fact a supplement of the Post-Crescent which is published at Appleton."

The ruling, in effect, prohibits the News-Record from bidding for printing of ordinances, legal notices and council proceedings.

The judge's ruling results from a taxpayer's action brought by Thomas J. Fink of Menasha against the City of Menasha, its mayor, clerk and treasurer and the Twin City News-Record, Inc.

Both Cities Effect of the ruling, part of a legal debate started by Fink in the interest of the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern in 1962, also prohibits the News-Record from bidding for legal notices from the City of Neenah.

Action was commenced by service of a summons, complaint and restraining order restraining the News-Record from attempting to publish ordinances and legal notices, Judge Cane said.

24, and Thomas Hoppe, 20, all of Oshkosh, and Thomas A. Zimmerman, 21, formerly of Appleton and Menasha.

The quartet gained their freedom by taking a plate off the end of a rod that operates the exit door in the jail. They then sawed the rod and operated the door manually; went to the roof of the five-story building and took a fire escape to the ground.

Use Hack Saw Sheriff Marvin Peppler said today a hack saw blade, which was apparently smuggled into the jail, was used in the escape. Sheriff's police were called at about 11 p.m. Sunday by an operator of a tavern on County Trunk K who said he saw someone he thought to be Hoppe. A patrolman on his way to the scene noticed a man walking along Ninth Street Road, about 1/2 mile west of U.S. 41. He stopped and apprehended Nast, who said he was returning to Oshkosh to see his ex-wife. A further search of the area where Holland had formerly worked disclosed the other three escapees hiding in the balcony of the Zion Church, eating potato chips and drinking pop. All were returned to the county jail.

Sheriff Peppler said the four had gotten lost on back roads west of here shortly after escaping and spent the daylight hours in a woods near the Winnebago County Airport. At dusk, they again headed toward the west and were walking until near the time of their capture.

Circuit Court Appeal Nast was in jail awaiting transfer of his case to Circuit Court after pleading innocent and innocent by reason of temporary insanity to two counts of reckless conduct regardless of human life, resulting from the March 20 shooting at the home of his estranged wife. The wife has since been granted a divorce, and two men involved in the shooting have recovered.

Holland had been sentenced recently to Waupun for a six-year term for a felony and had appealed the decision to Circuit Court.

Hoppe was in jail for burglary, and Zimmerman for car theft and worthless checks.

The sheriff said the county building committee will check the security of the jail today. This was the second such break in the last seven months. Both times the same method of escape was used.

Knowles Appoints Resources Head

Paul A. Pratt, Retired Milwaukee Businessman, Given State Post

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Gov. Warren P. Knowles today ended a four-month search for director of the State Department of Resource Development with the appointment of Paul A. Pratt, a 69-year-old retired business executive who has recently served as vice president for public relations and development of Beloit College.

Pratt told a news conference in the executive office that he is a Republican and is "thrilled" about the opportunity that the governor has given him.

But he said he has no immediate comment or announcements about his plans for the state agency which the Republican state administration intends to use as the spearhead of a campaign to expand the industrial economy of the state and to change the national image about Wisconsin as a place to do business.

Predicts Boom Year
Knowles said the last three and a half months have shown a "remarkable" increase in new business establishments in Wisconsin and predicted a "boom year for the state."

Besides 76 new industrial starts and business expansion decisions this year, he has been informed that "other industries are looking at Wisconsin now," Knowles said.

The governor declared there has been "a positive change of attitude of business people toward Wisconsin."

Knowles also said that he will soon announce the names of

Commends Wiggins
The governor also hinted broadly that he has asked that David Wiggins, for the last four months acting director of the state department, be named deputy director under Pratt. Wiggins is a civil servant and took over the directorship when Frank Zeidler, a Democratic administration appointee two years ago, quit upon the installation of the Republican governor in January.

Pratt started his business career in Wisconsin Rapids and later held top positions in the Borden Co. and had other business interests in Milwaukee. He is a former head of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce and lately has directed a building expansion program at Beloit College where he graduated in 1920.

Most of State Has Highs in 80s Sunday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Spring burst out in earnest over Wisconsin Sunday with the warmest weather of the season as highs of 80 degrees were common over most of the southern two-thirds of the state.

However, a cold front is expected to bring an end to the warm weather.

La Crosse reported Sunday's state high of 89 and Superior had the minimum of 76.

Low temperatures overnight varied from 45 in the Superior area to 61 at Lone Rock.

At mid-morning, thunderstorms were reported in the West central portion of Wisconsin. At 8 a.m. the La Crosse weather bureau warned that until 9 o'clock residents in Northern La Crosse, Buffalo and Trempealeau counties should expect severe scattered thunderstorms with large hail, rain showers and strong gusty surface winds. Sunday's national high was 99 at Presidio, Tex., and the early morning low today was 21 at Greenville, Maine and Bozeman, Mon.

YGOP Chooses Conservative To Lead Group

James Staples of East Troy Elected State Chairman

WISCONSIN RAPIDS (AP) — Young Republicans chose a self-labeled conservative for state chairman Sunday in a general display of harmony after hearing Rep. Melvin Laird warn the party could splinter itself into oblivion.

James Staples, 29, an East Troy businessman, defeated Gerald Menzel, 31, Wisconsin Rapids, by a ratio of nearly 2 to 1 after campaigning as the more conservative candidate.

Six of the other eight officers were elected without opposition. Menzel congratulated Staples afterwards and said there were no significant difference of opinion.

Laird told the convention Saturday, "Republicans are becoming over-organized in splinter groups and, as a direct result, badly organized as a national party."

One-Party Government

The country is on "the brink of a one-party national government," the Marshfield congressman warned.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles said a majority of the voting age population by 1970 will be 25 or younger and "the center of political gravity will soon lie with this young generation."

Staples polled 1,135 1/2 votes. Menzel 600 1/2.

Settle $100,000 Claim For Damages Against Seymour, Former Chief

A $100,000 law suit seeking damages from the City of Seymour and its former Police Chief Bernard Plumb, has reportedly been settled out of court. The suit was to be tried in Circuit Court today. Terms of the settlement were not made known.

Richard Kuehne, a Seymour resident, sought damages for injuries he received Aug. 3, 1963 when he was wounded in the stomach by Plumb who fired a pistol, loaded with blanks, at Kuehne.

The incident occurred during a frontier days festival in the city.

Kuehne received internal injuries and was hospitalized. He alleged in his suit that Plumb drew the pistol and fired it point-blank into his stomach. He was struck by wadding from the blank cartridge.

Monsoon Forces India and Pakistan In Unofficial Truce

100,000 Troops Still Deployed Along 'No Man's Land' Frontier

BY CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — An unofficial cease-fire prevailed in the Rann of Kutch today, but India and Pakistan had more than 100,000 troops stretched along their frontiers.

No formal truce has been announced. It appeared, however, that both sides were content to let the guns remain silent until monsoon rains flood the barren desert a couple of weeks from now, making further fighting impossible.

Troop concentrations were reported along other frontiers perilously close to the large population centers of Calcutta and Lahore. There was fear that some minor incident would touch off a major clash.

Calcutta, with 7 million inhabitants the largest city on the subcontinent, is less than 50 miles from the East Pakistan frontier. Lahore, with a population of nearly 900,000 Pakistanis, is less than 30 miles from the frontier between West Pakistan and India.

Hostile eNeighbors
India and Pakistan have been hostile neighbors since gaining their independence from Britain 8 years ago.

Leaders of both countries fired off warnings and counter-warnings during the weekend while British and American diplomats tried to create an atmosphere for negotiations.

A top Pakistani Foreign Office official, asked in Rawalpindi about prospects for a formal truce, said: "Terms for this are being negotiated in a preliminary way."

Pakistan has proposed a simultaneous withdrawal of troops from the Kutch. India reportedly has agreed only to replace its troops with armed border police.

U.S. presidential envoy Henry Cabot Lodge, in New Delhi to explain U.S. policy in Viet Nam, expressed Washington's "grave concern" about the fighting.

Military Aid
American military officers toured Indian and Pakistani lines in the area Sunday to determine whether U.S. military aid equipment had been used in the fighting there.

The Indian government claimed Pakistan used American tanks to attack Indian positions. Pakistan denied the charge and claimed the Indians used American ammunition.

India has received more than $6 billion in U.S. economic and military aid since 1951 and Pakistan more than $5 billion. The military aid equipment was not to be used for fighting between them.

Thousands of members of Pakistan's ruling Moslem League party demonstrated in Karachi Sunday, protesting "the arms rush to India by the United States."

Indian officers complained that "political considerations" had prevented the Indian government from sending reinforcements into the Kutch during the height of the fighting.

"I asked for tanks but New Delhi said no," an Indian field commander told a reporter.

Richland Area Headon Crash Takes 4 Lives

Weekend Toll 10, 254 Road Deaths Recorded in '65

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The headon crash of two cars in Richland County has claimed four lives, raising the Wisconsin weekend traffic toll to 10 and the total for the year to 254, compared with 318 on this date a year ago.

Seven other persons were injured in the Richland County crash, one of them critically and the others seriously.

"It was the worst I've seen," said an investigating officer. "Those that survived were hurt so badly we haven't been able to tell how the crash occurred."

Killed in the crash Sunday night were Daniel L. Grim and Alvin F. Stenner, both 21, and both of rural Viola. Grim was the driver of one of the cars, a convertible. The crash occurred on Highway 60 about 1 1/4 miles northwest of Muscoda.

Baraboo Man
John Niles, 59, of Baraboo and his grandson, Danny Sutton, 4, of Portage died later in Richland Center Hospital, where all of the injured were taken.

Danny was the son of Clyde Sutton, 25, the driver of the second car.

The father, his wife, Judy, 24, Danny, and Niles were pinned in the wreckage of their car. Roger Sutton, 3, and his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Niles, 54, were thrown from the auto. Two Niles children, Christine, 14, and Steven, 10, were found in the wrecked car.

Mrs. Sutton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niles.

Anna Marie Paulson, 15, of Soldiers Grove, who was riding with the two young men, also was injured.

Motorcycle Crash

Roger Sutton was listed in critical condition.

James A. Smith and Duane B. Nichols, both 25 and of Milwaukee, were killed Saturday night when their motorcycle went out of control on a curve and hurled them into a tree on Milwaukee's South Side.

Roger J. Egnarski, 23, of rural Pulaski was killed Saturday night when his car struck a culvert along Highway 160 west of Pulaski.

Victims listed earlier were Lorrie Heins, 8-months, of Belmont; Jerome Versteegen, 39, Little Chute, and Dwight Zueske, 18, Gresham.

Rollo Rutledge, 59, of Superior died Sunday in a Superior hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car, Douglas County crash on April 21.

Defense Department Selma Rights March Cost Set at $510,000

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — It cost the Defense Department $510,000 to protect the Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights marchers, the Pentagon said today.

This raised to nearly $13 million the cost of using federal troops and federalized National Guardsmen in five major civil rights crises dating back to Little Rock in 1957.

The Pentagon said the $510,000 figure covered pay and allowances for Alabama National Guardsmen called into federal duty, plus transportation and other expenses in connection with measures taken to protect the voting rights march in late March.

The figure did not take into account the pay and allowances for about 1,000 regular Army military policemen who also were used. The Army has taken the position that these men would be drawing such pay and allowances regardless of what duties they were performing.

Also Excluded
Also excluded were the expenses involved in use of federal marshals and other resources of the Justice Department.

The Alabama National Guard was federalized from March 20 to March 28.

In response to inquiries, the Defense Department also listed the costs of past Defense Department involvement in civil rights crises.

In September 1957, President Dwight D. Eisenhower called up 10,500 Arkansas Air and Army Guardsmen in a clash with Gov. Orval E. Faubus over admitting Negro pupils to Central High School in Little Rock. Federal troops were used.

The operation, extending from September 1957 to May 1958, cost $4,898,000.

In October 1962, the late President John F. Kennedy called out about 8,000 Mississippi Guardsmen during the riot-marked integration of the University of Mississippi. Here, too, sizable regular federal forces were used.

The Pentagon said this federal military operation, which lasted until June 1963, cost $4,364,000.

In June 1963, Kennedy ordered 17,000 Alabama Army and Air Guardsmen called into federal service before Gov. George C. Wallace allowed Negroes to enter the University of Alabama.

Three months later, Alabama Guardsmen were back in federal service, this time in a federal-state dispute over public school integration.

The Army spent $3,171,000 for these operations of Alabama National Guardsmen. Other expenses, including communications, transportation and the like, are not included in this figure. The Army said it did not have cost data on these elements.

Frequently Close North Viet Nam Fliers Stay Clear of Raiding U. S. Jets

WITH U.S. 7th FLEET (AP) — Raiding American warplanes and Communist jets are frequently within five minutes of each other in the skies over North Viet Nam.

However, since their surprise success in downing two American planes a few weeks ago, the Communist fliers have shown no sign that they were ready to engage in a sky battle with the superior U.S. interceptors.

Before raiding North Vietnamese targets, American pilots get briefings on the presence of MIG jets in Communist skies. These briefings are based on airborne electronic spotting, which has been greatly tightened since the MIGs staged their one-shot attack.

Daily Missions
The Communists evidently have grouped their MIGs around Hanoi and daily fly missions over the city and the port of Haiphong.

These cover flights are frequently in the air at the same time U.S. raids are taking place. Although most U.S. raids have been fairly close to the 17th Parallel between north and South Viet Nam, they are often farther north.

At jet speeds, the flying time between the opposing airmen often narrows down to a mere 5 or 10 minutes.

American pilots tend to take the presence of MIG pilots in the skies as a matter of course. "They've got to get in their flying time the same as we do," said one combat veteran.

Safety Zone
By Washington's orders, American raids so far have spared the Hanoi-Haiphong area. In effect, this has created a sort of privileged sanctuary in the sky above these areas. The MIGs are up there frequently.

American officers will not give intelligence estimates concerning the activity of the small North Vietnamese air force or predict American strikes at it.

However, combat fliers from the aircraft carriers make it no secret that they would like to tangle with the MIGs again. Apart from making sweeps around Hanoi, the Communist pilots evidently are reluctant to provoke such an action.

Illinois, Missouri Await End of Record Mississippi River Flooding

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Soggy dikes held back the powerful thrust of the swollen Mississippi River in the Hannibal, Mo.-Quincy, Ill., area today as residents of other communities up and down the river waited for the worst spring flood in history to run its course.

"A flood of this magnitude is calculated to occur only once in 100 years," the Interior Department reported, confirming that the flood was the biggest on record.

The flood, which began in Minnesota, parts of North Dakota and Wisconsin during March when snow began to melt, has taken 14 lives and caused $150 million damage in five states.

In the Hannibal-Quincy area, the river is on the rise again toward a predicted crest Tuesday.

Families Evacuated
Only 23 families have been evacuated from low-lying areas in Hannibal. About 100 persons have fled their homes in Quincy. Hannibal has no levee protecting its population of 20,000. The water had begun falling in a 15-block industrial area which has been flooded for about a week and most of the streets are passable.

A broken levee Saturday night five miles south of Quincy, a city of 45,000 took some of the pressure off the Hannibal area. After the levee break, floodwaters ran 15 feet deep across 7,700 acres of farmland. It increased the amount of land under water in Adams County, Ill., to 25,000 acres. More than 20,000 acres were covered upstream in Henderson County, 70 miles to the north.

When the levee broke, the river began receding.

Another Rise
The Mississippi dropped Saturday night at Quincy from Wednesday's record high of 24.8 feet to 23.5 feet. The high in Hannibal was 24.6 Friday, but it fell to 23.6 early Sunday.

The river began rising again, however, and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a crest Tuesday of 24.7 feet in Quincy and 24.5 feet in Hannibal.

The Mississippi has been over flood stage — which is 16 feet — since April 6.

Upriver from the Quincy-Hannibal area, several small towns were hammered by the floods.

Officials feared that battered levees would not hold in the Illinois towns of Keithsburg, with 963 residents, and in Hull, population 535. Most of Hull's residents have been evacuated.

Gulfport, Ill., was marked only by the peaks of roofs and treetops. The 250 residents fled two weeks ago.

Quad Cities

Water receded at the rate of three inches an hour in the Quad Cities area of Davenport, Iowa, and Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill.

Officials have said the crisis will be over when the crest passes Quincy and Hannibal and the waters level out in the wider channel of the lower Mississippi.

Government officials said the record water discharge in St. Paul, Minn., exceeded the previous maximum flood in 1952 by 38 per cent.

A spokesman for the Geological Survey in St. Paul said, "during the April 12-21 period at St. Paul, the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers discharged more than 800 billion gallons of water, enough to supply the needs of two cities the size of New York for about a year."

Phils Sweep Doubleheader From Braves

scoring chances and handed the Phils' the opener, then performed sloppily in dropping the nightcap.

Poor Support

Southpaw Denny Lemaster was the victim of poor support and suffered the loss in the first game. Billy O'Dell, the fourth of the five Milwaukee hurlers in the second game, took the other defeat as reliever Jack Baldschun stopped the Braves on one hit and struck out five in the last four innings.

Lemaster, whose record dropped to 1-2, deserved a better fate. In top form, he struck out nine, but had to leave for a pinchhitter in the seventh, an inning after the Phils provided the left-hander Chris Short a 4-0 lead.

Cookie Rojas opened the sixth by beating out a hit behind second base. The Braves argued vainly over umpire Tom Gorman's call at first base. Lemaster struck out Johnny Callison, then walked Richie Allen, who had five hits in seven times at bat in the twinbill.

Off Lemaster's Leg

Alex Johnson rapped a hit off Lemaster's leg to fill the bases, but former Brave Frank Thomas fled to short right. Then Tony Taylor lined a ball directly at Hank Aaron and Lemaster appeared out of the inning. However, Aaron misjudged the ball, slipped and then dropped the liner. Taylor was credited with a single as three runs scored. Gus Triandos then doubled home Taylor.

The Phils added two more runs on Allen's homer off Dan Dan Olsinski in the eighth. The Braves, who left two runners on base in the second, and fourth innings, strand three in the eighth as Short posted his fourth victory in five decisions.

Philadelphia shelled Milwaukee starter Hank Fischer with a four-run uprising in the second inning of the nightcap. However, the Braves came right back to tie the count in their half on doubles by Eddie Mathews and Joe Torre, a fielder's choice, a single by Frank Bolling, a walk and a double by Felipe Alou.

The Phils scored a run in each of the next three innings, while the Braves picked up one in the third on an error and Rico Carty's single and two in the fifth on homers by Alou and Aaron.

Similar Fate

O'Dell then suffered a fate similar to Lemaster's. After a single and a force out, Carty, in the lineup for the first time since suffering a back ailment in spring training, lost a fly to left by Rojas. The sun blinded Carty as a run scored. Another run came across on a throwing error by Denny Menke, who attempted to complete a double-Baldschun then tamed the Braves the rest of the way in the second game, boosting his record to 2-0. O'Dell was left with a 1-1 mark. Aaron's homer, his second of the season, gave him and Eddie Mathews the national League record for the most homers hit by two teammates. The sluggers have hit 746 since Aaron joined the Braves in 1954. The old, pinchhitter in the seventh, an mark of 745 was held by Duke Snider and Gil Hodges of the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers.

The major league mark is 870 by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees. The Braves enjoyed a day of rest today. They open a two-game series with the Houston Astros at County Stadium Tuesday night.

BY MURRAY CHASS
A foul pop has instilled new life in the last of a vanishing breed.
Jim King hit the pop that enabled the Washington Senators to edge Cleveland 3-2 in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday. The feat so exhilarated the 32-year-old pinch hitter that he drove in the decisive run with a single in the Senators' 4-2 second game triumph.

King is the only remaining member of the new Senators, whose 28 players collected in the American League expansion draft for $75,000 each.
Now in his ninth major league season, the last five with Washington, King hadn't had much success this season in his battle to remain in the majors and save the 1961-vintage Senators from extinction. Before Sunday's doubleheader, he had only two hits in 28 trips to the plate for an .071 average.

Another Original
But Manager Gil Hodges selected the outfielder to bat for Ken Hamlin with one out and the bases loaded in a 2-2 game in the eighth inning. King quickly became involved with another original Senator, Cleveland first baseman Chuck Hinton.

He lofted a pop fly into foul territory just beyond the In-Third. The decisive run came in the seventh on Ken Berry's Hinton caught the pop but double and a single by Danny flopped when it came to keeping Cater.

This time, batting for Joe Mc- opener on Felix Mantilla's Cabe, he popped a single to cen- bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the sixth inning. The Red Sox had an easier time in the nightcap as Dalton Jones and Mike Ryan combined for seven runs batted in. Ryan hammered two homers, his first in the majors.

Los Angeles rookie Paul Schaal clubbed a pair of homers in the Angels' opening-game victory against Kansas City, but the Athletics struck back in the nightcap, breaking their seven-game losing streak.

Bill Bryan drove in three runs with a homer in Kansas City's five-run first inning while Tom Reynolds delivered a two-run double in a four-run third.

Only a few minutes before King's winning pop in the opener, Max Alvis tied the game for the Indians with a two-run homer. McCabe had homered for the Senators.

Ken McMullen's two-run blast gave Washington a 2-1 lead in the nightcap, but Cleveland tied it in the seventh on Vic Davalillo's single and a pinch hit double by Al Luplow.

A member of the old Senators and the majors' defending home run champion, Harmon Killebrew, finally clubbed his first homer of 1965, a two-run blast in Minnesota's eighth inning that tied the game 2-2. Then, in the 10th, he beat Chicago with a run-scoring double.

Henry Aaron, of the Milwaukee Braves, isn't touching the ground as he is congratulated at home plate Sunday by teammate Eddie Mathews after a record-breaking home run against the Philadelphia Phillies at County Stadium. Aaron's clout (off Bo Belinsky) broke the National League mark for homers by two teammates. The Aaron-Mathews duo has hit 746 homers. The old (745) mark was held by Brooklyn-Los Angeles' stars Duke Snider-Gil Hodges. (AP Wirephoto)

McCovey hit a two-run homer following Jesus Alou's single in the seventh inning and then put the Giants ahead to stay in the 10th. A walk, a sacrifice and Harvey Kuenn's single produced an insurance run.

Played Key Role
Tim McCarver played a key role for the Cardinals in the opener, starting a four-run fifth inning rally with a single, scoring the decisive run in the sixth after reaching base on Gene Alley's error and then driving in two runs in the seventh inning. With that kind of support Bob Gibson brought his record to 4-0.

Bill White finished the sweep with a leadoff homer in the ninth inning of the nightcap. The Cardinals had been held to one hit by Bob Veale - Ken Boyer's fourth inning homer - until they broke through in the eighth to tie the score.

The Reds scored eight runs after two were out in the fifth inning to nail the opener against the Mets. Pinch hitter Art Shamsky, batting for injured Frank Robinson, slammed a two-run homer and Leo Cardenas contributed two doubles to the uprisings.

Doubie by Pavletich
In the second game, the Mets pulled ahead 8-6 with a six-run sixth inning. But the Reds scored in the seventh on a double by Don Pavletich and Johnny Edwards' triple before Gordy Coleman hit a decisive two-run homer in the eighth. Pavletich and Edwards also homered.

Larry Jackson, the majors' biggest winner with 24 last season, picked up his first 1965 victory against the Astros by triggering a four-run, third inning Chicago outburst with a leadoff triple. Ernie Banks doubled in two runs in the rally.

wall—the first Goodland Field circuit drive of the campaign.
The C-Sox took a 3-2 lead in the third as Young singled, took second on second baseman John Sepich's error and scored on Vickers' single to left.

Fox Cities tied it for the last time in the third as Steve Myshrahl doubled to right center and scored on Perez' single to center.

FOX TALES: Neenah's Karl Pennau, Appleton Xavier's Tom Rankin, Menasha's Dick Sorenson and Appleton High's Chuck McKee (now a Lawrence University freshman) were presented with special athletic awards prior to the start of the "High School Day" game.
Fox Valley Lutheran sports star Gary Buss won the motorbike awarded in a contest, which called for entrants to complete a designated statement in 25 words or less.
The Appleton High School pep band enlivened festivities with pre-game and between-innings entertainment.

Gary Lutz, starting Foxes catcher, was hurt in the sixth inning when hit in the neck by a ball and retired in favor of Rex Peters, a converted outfielder.

Several Auburndale relatives of Mickey Vandenberg's watched the young first baseman's second professional appearance in his home state.
Thus far, Vandenberg is hitless in the series.

Two outfielders made the defensive plays of the game: Clinton's Jim Dortch robbed Ron Perez of an extra base hit in the seventh, and Fox Cities' Elmore Hill made a leaping catch of a Haley Young liner in the eighth.

Lopez Still Looking For Unit of Starters

Hurlers Have Only 2 Complete Games Out of 15 Played

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) —The pitching-talented Chicago White Sox still are clinging to the American League lead with Manager Al Lopez wondering when his six-man regular staff will become a unit of starters.

Before the largest White Sox park crowd in almost two seasons, 42,367, the Pale Hose Sunday divided with power-packed Minnesota, thus mustering a half-game lead over the runner-up Twins.

Muscleman Harmon Killebrew personally whipped the hose 3-2 in the 10-inning opener, slugging a two-run homer tying the score 2-2 in the eighth and then doubling across the winning run in the 10th.

The White Sox, who wasted solo homers by Johnny Romano and Ron Hansen in the opener, took the nightcap 5-4 on a two-run homer by Don Buford and a none-on-blast by Floyd Robinson.

Still Looking
It was a day that made Lopez mutter later "We think we have a six-man staff or starters, but we're still looking for it."

His kid pair of Tommy John, 21, and Bruce Howard, 22, were Sunday's starters but both were rendered hors d'oeuvre after creditable performances.

John was knicked on his right ankle by the flying bat of Tony Oliva in the sixth inning of the opener after scattering three hits up to that point.

"Tommy tried to jump over the bat, but we could hear it bang his ankle," said Lopez. "It had to be bandaged between innings and it definitely affected him so much we lifted him for pinch hitter in the seventh."

It was a blister on the middle finger of his pitching hand that sent Howard to the sidelines after he walked the first Twin batter in the seventh of the nightcap while holding a 4-2 lead.

"The kid had a little blister on his hand before the game and I didn't find out about it until I walked out to the mound in the seventh," said Lopez. "He would have tried to keep on pitching, but the blister had broken open and he could have hurt his arm trying to continue."

4 Earned Runs
Howard, who has allowed only four earned runs in 21 innings and still owns a 2-0 record, may be able to start Friday or Saturday.

John probably won't get an other start until next Sunday, with Gary Peters (2-1), Joe Horlen (1-2) and John Buzhardt (2-0) due for service Tuesday and Wednesday against the Detroit Tigers.

Thursday is an open White Sox date.

The Sox, who have had only two complete games pitched in their current 10-5 record, still have had only one inning from Juan Pizarro, a 19-game winner last season, as a starter this year.

Wonderful Juan is in shape, Lopez avers, but the Sox skipper doesn't know when the smooth lefty will start again. "Maybe we'll try him as a spot reliever to really see if he has his stuff," said Lopez.

Michigan '9' Tightens Grip On First Place

Wolverines Run Win Streak to 6; Buckeyes Second

CHICAGO (AP) — Undeclared Michigan tightened its grip on first place last week-end while dealing a severe blow to Illinois' Big Ten baseball hopes.

The Wolverines, deep in good pitching, ran their winning streak to six straight Saturday by taking a twin bill from Illinois 5-1 and 2-0. Clyde Barnhart fired a three-hitter for the Wolves in the opener, before Bill Zepp set the Illini down on only two hits in the nightcap.

The Wolves started the day with a one-game edge on the Illini, who could have taken the conference lead with a sweep.

A sweep by Ohio State over Wisconsin kept the Buckeyes hopes alive as they remained only a game off the pace with a 5-1 record. The Buckeyes are placing a large share of their title hopes on hurler Steve Arlin who notched his third conference win in the Saturday nightcap which the Bucks won 4-3.

Ohio State took the opener 6-2. The win was the second in two days for Arlin, who struck out 14 Wildcats Friday in a 10-2 win over Northwestern.

He has an over-all 7-1 season record.

Indiana downed winless Northwestern twice Saturday, 15-1 and 8-2. The wins evened the Hoosier record at 3-3 leaving them in a five-way tie for third place, while Northwestern remained the only conference team without a win with an 0-6 mark.

Also tied with Indiana for third are defending champion Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan State, all with 3-3 records, and Iowa with a 2-2 mark.

Iowa took two of three week-end games with Minnesota dropping the Gophers out of contention for the time being, but Minnesota gets a chance to tighten the race Friday when it meets Michigan in Ann Arbor. Other games Friday send Illinois to Indiana, Iowa to Michigan State, Purdue to Ohio State and Wisconsin to Northwestern.

Saturday's double-header schedule shows Illinois at Ohio State, Iowa at Michigan, Minnesota at Michigan State, Purdue at Indiana, while Wisconsin concludes a three-game set at Northwestern.

Most outstanding performance of the weekend was turned in by Indiana's Ron Keller, who fanned 14 Wildcats in a 15-1 win. Keller also poled a bases-loaded homer to lead the potent Hoosier offense which cracked out 27 hits in the double-header triumph.

Menola, an Italian immigrant who came to the United States 10 years ago, was the only bowler from nearly 800 Sunday to crack the top 10 standings.

The 33-year-old candy maker shot 623 in the team event, 683 in the doubles and 567 in singles but fell 35 pins short of Hank Raasch of Minneapolis, who has led the all events since April 14 with 1908.

Palmer Wins Tournament of Champions Test

Staves Off Late Rally by Rodriguez For 2-Shot Victory

By BOB MYERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — It developed into something less than a rout, but golfer Arnold Palmer was quite satisfied with his narrow victory in the 13th annual $75,000 Tournament of Champions.

The end of the tournament Sunday came when Palmer posted a one-under-par 71 and a lead that had mounted to seven strokes dwindled to two at the finish.

Winds up to 35 miles an hour swept over the Desert Inn Country Club course as the largest gallery in the history of the event, 11,275, hung on to watch the dramatic windup.

Palmer's total score was 277 and second place went to Chi Chi Rodriguez, who had a final-round 70 for 279.

It was the first victory for Palmer since the Oklahoma City Open May 18, 1964, and gave Arnie a distinction few people can enjoy. He left Las Vegas richer than when he came — $14,000, in fact.

Palmer headed Monday, along with most of his fellow pros, for the $100,000 Colonial National Invitational at Fort Worth.

Repeating History
Three years ago Palmer won the Las Vegas tournament and also the Colonial. Arnie has no objection to repeating history.

The 120-pound Rodriguez went on a birdie binge, bettering par on the final four holes.

"Man, you finish pretty fast," Palmer said to Chi Chi. "I learned that from you," replied Rodriguez.

Doug Sanders had a 72 for 281 and third place.

Sam Snead, a youngish 52, and Australian Kel Nagle, 44, the two oldest players in the tournament, each shot a 70 and tied at 283 for fourth place.

Jack Nicklaus, who had hoped to win the event for the third straight year, finished worse than he started. He had a first-round 74 and a final 78 for 290.

"I just got started bad and never could get my game going," Nicklaus explained.

Pass Up Colonial
He will pass up the Colonial, flying instead to his home in Columbus, Ohio, where his wife is expecting their third child. Nicklaus admitted he has been apprehensive because the baby is a week overdue.

Palmer agreed that an eagle 3 on the 509-yard 10th hole was probably the clincher. A 30-yard shot with a wedge did the trick. It put him eight shots in front of Sanders and seven ahead of Rodriguez at that point.

Palmer, whose woes the past year were blamed primarily on his putting, said he was delighted that he did not 3-putt a green in the four rounds. He hadn't been able to do this since he won the 1964 Masters Championship.

Purdue. Neil Hallen stroked the winning shell.

Wisconsin's junior varsity and freshmen crews also defeated Purdue teams to make it a clean sweep for the host school. The Badger jayvees won by two lengths and the frosh had three lengths to spare.

Most outstanding performance of the weekend was turned in by Indiana's Ron Keller, who fanned 14 Wildcats in a 15-1 win. Keller also poled a bases-loaded homer to lead the potent Hoosier offense which cracked out 27 hits in the double-header triumph.

Francis Bloomer, John Rawson Card First Aces

Frances Bloomer, Appleton, and John Rawson, Neenah, scored the first holes-in-1 of the Fox Cities-area golf season Saturday.

frame, then three more strikes and nine pins on his last ball.

Third Place
Harold DeDecker, of Appleton, moved into third place in men's Class B, one pin behind Diedrich. DeDecker had games of 183, 201, 213 and 171 to go with his 156 pins of handicap for the 924 count.

DeDecker had 21 strikes in the four games, including eight in the third line when he posted the 213 count.

Only one change was recorded among the leaders in men's Class A as Floyd Flanagan, of Appleton, smashed a 893 total on games of 163, 241, 171 and 222. Flanagan had 96 pins handicap, and his total put him in fourth place.

In the women's divisions, several changes were noted as Dorothy Bouril, Manitowoc, took over second place in Class A with an 801 count.

Top Woman's Series
Dorothy carried only 28 pins total handicap, but came through with games of 187, 185, 199 and 202 for the best scratch series by a woman in the tournament this year. She was only 29 pins shy of a national honor count in her first three games.

Dorothy blasted a total of 18 strikes in the four games, including six in each of the first and third lines.

In women's Class B, Marion Holschuh, Hollandtown, socked a 787 count to go into fourth place. Marion recorded games of 169, 172, and 155 before falling off to a 125 in her last effort. She carried 136 pins handicap.

Anita Runge, Shawano, took fifth place in Class B with a 752 total, helped out by a 168-pin handicap.

Booming Games
Several booming games were recorded by men keepers in weekend action. Jim Traas, Appleton, bowling on Class A fired a 254 in his third game. He started with two splits and spared both of them, put together three strikes in a row, nailed another split which he cleaned up and then strung five strikes in a row before getting eight pins on his last ball.

"Duffy" Meyer, Oshkosh, notched a 254 in his second game, started with two spares, then three strikes, another spare and five strikes in a row. Jack Van Dalen, Kimberly, recorded a 247 game which included a total of eight strikes.

Use Troops for War on Crime In America

City Streets Could Again be Safe Places to Roam

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is to be commended for sending Marines into Santo Domingo to protect the lives of 1,200 or more Americans and European nationals—but there are those who say he hasn't gone far enough. They point to the tens of thousands of Americans living in Washington, D.C. who need similar protection, particularly at night. Even servicemen in military installations near large cities are being warned, because of the dangers of assault, not to go out alone but only in groups of at least two or three persons. The situation in the District of Columbia is not far different from what it is in other parts of the United States. But it so happens that the President has complete authority to govern the national capital and to use federal troops as policemen to protect the lives of the residents. Many Marines and soldiers in the regular army have no heavy duties at their military bases or barracks and could be employed to guard the lives of American citizens in this country, especially in the evening hours.

The tragedies are numerous. Here is an excerpt from a letter just received by this correspondent from a serviceman who has fought gallantly for his country:

Lived in D.C.
"My wife and I both worked our way through college. We lived and worked in the District of Columbia, where she was graduated at the Southeastern University and also attended the Corcoran School of Art. She was a talented artist, accountant and legal secretary. In December 1962, she got off a bus in Southeast Washington, where we lived. A teen-age boy ran up behind her and slugged her viciously with a brick or club, knocking her down on the walk, and almost broke her arm when he jerked the purse off her arm. She was covered with blood and hospitalized nearly a week.
"Last August 25, 1964, she went out of the apartment about midnight with a flashlight looking for her cat. She was 55 years old. A twenty-year old man grabbed her around the neck with an arm lock and attempted to drag her into the nearby woods to rape her. When she screamed for help, he stabbed her four times with some vicious, narrow daggers, almost like ice picks. She died 12 days later in the hospital, although she was given many blood transfusions and operated upon by the best doctors in Washington. Servicemen in the Department of Defense gave 16 pints of blood to the hospital in her memory. There is no use my attempting to tell you how terribly I feel about this; I cry all the time about losing her, and just scream when I think of the attack by this vicious brute.
Not Convicted
"The police did a good job catching him, but he hasn't been convicted yet and may beat the case, although they found her wristwatch in his pocket. He has been in jail six months waiting trial.
"There is nothing more to add. It is really a matter of the survival of our country, if the crime wave isn't stopped. In the meantime, merchants are being shot to death and policemen maimed right here in the shadow of the Capitol.
"Would use of the Marines and troops be possible to stop the crime wave? Should all men be fingerprinted? Should criminals be deported? Surely there must be some solution to save our country. It is more dangerous to walk the streets of Washington, D.C., than anything I faced in World War II or the service during the Korean police action, and I have nine campaign ribbons and lived through it, only to find my wife murdered in front of our home in Washington, D.C."

Cost Little
It would cost the government of the United States hardly any extra funds to allocate troops to the major cities of the United States for night patrol duty. They could travel in automobiles and make tours every few minutes in all sections of a city. Eventually, of course, the states would have to appropriate money for permanent patrols by

Sub-Committee Members of the East Central Wisconsin Water Supply Committee met at Chilton to formulate a plan of action regarding the possible formation of a six-county water utility. Seated are Caesar Stravinski, left, State Board of Health, chairman, and Chilton's Mayor Harry Thompson. Standing from left are John Jurgenson, Neenah; Robert McManus, Fond du Lac, and William Gallaher, Appleton. Another member of the sub-committee is Richard Cannard, Manitowoc. (Youngsteadt Photo)

There their lives. could, however, be some immediate relief through the use of federal troops. The administration is studying the whole question of how it can for the benefit of the states so be of help in getting better that an emergency project for police protection for the entire increasing the police forces country. But the project has not could be put into operation, it been given priority over every- would unquestionably be ap-

By JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Generally unnoticed at the last session of the joint Legislative Council was the suggestion of the retiring chairman, Sen. Robert P. Knowles of New Richmond, that a study of the election expenditure control laws should be a high priority matter for the group during the next legislative interim.

Knowles made the comment as he complimented Assemblyman William Steiger of Oshkosh for his work in assembling a report on the conclusions of an interim study of last year on improvements in the mechanics of elections.

The so-called "corrupt practices" laws governing the use of money in politics have not been re-examined in the light of changing times and circumstances for decades. Parties have worked out their own accommodation with the nominal controls, with the help of some court decisions, and some of the top figures in the management of both parties are not especially anxious to have the subject reviewed.

A first test vote in the Wisconsin assembly will probably come Tuesday on one of the most important recent proposals in the field of higher education. Scheduled for early consideration in the new legislative week is the bill that would authorize third and fourth year university educational opportunity, in conjunction with existing instruction centers for freshman and sophomore students, in the urbanized Fox River Valley and southeastern Wisconsin areas. The outlook is for a favorable preliminary vote in the lower house, whereupon the measure will be sent to the legislative finance committee for review. Assemblyman George Molinaro of Kenosha, one of the authors of the measure and co-chairman of that committee, says he is confident of a vote of the committee recommending enactment of the legislation.

The state senate has not experienced thus far in the 1965 session the kind of frantic maneuvering that had accompanied legislation involving voting machines and proposed alternative electronic devices for the compilation of voting returns. Most sideliners are mystified about the frenzy of the parliamentary movements and the intensity of the concern of some of the participants.

The issue involves a 1963 act which will provide, effective next year, that all communities of more than 10,000 shall use machine voting methods, and a proposal to reduce the costs to such municipalities by the substitution of relatively less expensive electronic methods for the counting.

Best informed members of the legislature are now making private guesses that the prohibition of colored margarine will be repealed, but that there is no substantial hope for the repeal of oleo taxation at this session.

The fact that the margarine taxes, however loosely enforced, bring in a couple of hundreds of thousands of dollars a year may very well be a factor in the thinking of some of the legislators in the difficult deficit situation that confronts them. Basically, however, the legislature seems likely to hesitate about an affront to agriculture that would be hurtful to candidates of both parties in the 1968 elections.

Private fliers will make a bid for representation of their interests on the state aeronautics commission when terms of two commissioners expire during the next week. Aviation has long been one of the prime interests of Gov. Knowles, moreover, which indicates that he will give special attention to the recruitment of men to succeed Don Olson of Two Rivers, the present chairman of the commission, and Arlyn West of Plover, both Democrats.

Speaker Robert Huber of the assembly will be named chairman of the Legislative Council when it is reorganized early next month.

Huber will have the votes to win the election, since his assembly Democrats will have numerical control of the Council. But he has the advantage also of the tradition that senators and assemblymen alternate in the Council command. Sen. Robert P. Knowles, the Republican leader of the senate, is the retiring Council chairman.

Politicians are talking about an unusual turn-over in town

Waitress Surprised By $15,000 Bequest

WARWICK, R.I. (AP) — A waitress, remembered by a customer as "kind and courteous," has received the biggest tip of her career. Mrs. Joseph A. Whitaker, 39, was left $15,000 in the will of Earl C. Mackay, filed Friday at City Hall, and a third of the remainder of the $60,000 estate after specific requests of $51,000 are paid.

Mackay, who ate frequently at the Father & Son Restaurant where Mrs. Whitaker is employed, was a retired laundry supervisor.

government leadership in the recent spring elections. Ben Hanneman of the Wisconsin Towns Association estimates that the town officer turn-over has been about 40 per cent. One of the reasons suggested is the decision of many town chairmen to retire because of the knowledge that they will lose their automatic county board seats under the impending county board reapportionment program.

The eagerness of legislators to amend the legislative expense account law to provide for a longer duration of the expense reimbursement provisions is perhaps the best, if pessimistic, evidence of the probable length of the 1965 legislative session.

Very few legislators now believe that they can wind up their deliberations before August 1, and most predictions are for a later ending because of the time-consuming wrangle about the budget and tax policy that apparently cannot be avoided whatever pious hopes may be expressed by members of both parties for the edification of their local constituents.

Johnson Tries to Persuade Congress Foreign Aid Good

Goals Are Being Reached, President States in Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said "we travel a difficult road" in administering the foreign aid program. But he said, "I am persuaded that we are on the right road."

Submitting to Congress today a 124-page report on aid activities in the 12 months ended last June 30, Johnson said the document "demonstrates that our program of international assistance is fulfilling its promise to the world and to America."

The President said the program meets both humanitarian and national goals.

"Our own security rests on the security of others. Their good health is our good health. As they prosper, we prosper. Our concern must — and does — transcend national borders," he said.

Aid Commitments
Economic aid commitments during the 12 months approached $2.3 billion.

"Slowly, but I believe steadily, all these efforts are leading nations to greater economic prosperity and social stability," the President said.

Countries such as Greece, Formosa and Israel, "long recipients of our economic support and encouragement, are emerging to a stage of progress where they no longer need our economic assistance," he said. Johnson said other nations, poised at the crossroads of political decisions, are watching.

"We must not — and we will not — falter in building this bridge to a more peaceful future," he said.

Hard Test
The President told Congress the aid agency, the Agency for International Development, "is successfully applying a hard test of where and how our limited resources will yield the greatest rewards."

He said this was being done by encouraging and insuring private investment, by concentrating on countries "able to follow the disciplined and arduous path to progress," and by emphasizing long-term development projects.

In the 12-month period, he said, more than 45 per cent of the aid program was in the form of development assistance, compared with 25 per cent three years ago.

The President applauded AID for achieving savings of more than $9 million by increasing operating efficiency and cutting the payroll by more than 1,100.

Johnson Says Reds Direct Dominican Republic Revolt

U. S. Target of Soviets, Cuba At U.N. Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union and Cuba were ready to hit the United States hard today in the U.N. Security Council for sending troops into the Dominican Republic. The United States was ready to hit right back.

The council was meeting at the request of Soviet chief delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, who accused the United States of interference in the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic.

U. S. Contention
U.S. Chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson was expected to repeat to U.S. contention that it had sent in troops and Marines to rescue foreign residents from a civil war. Stevenson also was expected to add President Johnson's latest explanation that the U.S. goal was to save the Dominican Republic from Communist conspirators.

Stevenson wanted the council to dispose of the Soviet complaint in one meeting and leave any action to the Organization of American States.

Cuban chief delegate Fernando Alvarez Tabio sought permission to speak as an interested non-member of the council.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa sent Secretary-General U Thant a note Friday accusing the United States of planning "total occupation" of the Dominican Republic on the "false pretext" of safeguarding U.S. citizens.

Security Council
He said this action could not be ignored by the Security Council and General Assembly and asked Thant to see that "competent organs" of the United Nations condemned it.

Thant flew back Sunday night from a trip to Vienna and Geneva.

Thant, returning three days early, told newsmen in Geneva he believed the OAS could play a "very useful role" in a "very serious" situation in the Dominican Republic. But he added: "I very much hope the Security Council will be able to adopt a resolution which will contribute toward a peaceful solution."

The United States took the view that the council should not adopt a resolution because the OAS had already adopted one and had sent a five-nation peace-making committee to the Dominican Republic.

4,500 More Troops Being Rushed to Caribbean Isle; Total Force Now 14,000

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States began rushing another 4,500 troops to the Dominican Republic today after President Johnson said the rebel uprising had been taken over by Communist conspirators directed from abroad.

The President's declaration that a military buildup was necessary for security on the Caribbean island, came as rebel fighters made a new attack Sunday night on U.S. troops despite the declared cease-fire.

Rebels hurled grenades at American positions and hampered away with fire from automatic weapons. The outburst lasted about an hour.

American Casualties
No new casualties were reported on the American side. It was uncertain whether answering fire by U.S. forces caught any of the rebels.

The Defense Department in Washington has reported two Marines and two paratroopers killed, and 21 Marines and 21 paratroopers wounded since American forces began landing last Wednesday.

Addition of the 4,500 fighting men ordered in by the President will bring the total of U.S. Marines and Army men to 14,000.

Rebel groups broke the cease-fire after American units took over the front lines from weary troops loyal to the new military junta.

Dominican Gen. Jesus de los Santos said his forces were pulled back because they were exhausted after a week of skirmishes.

The rebels charged the American troops actually were moving in on them slowly.

Impartial Attitude
A U.S. spokesman said American forces were maintaining a strictly impartial attitude. He said they are safeguarding an international zone of refuge and in that sense they are in the "front line."

U.S. Marines held positions to the west of the rebel stronghold. They moved into the strong-points from their original positions at the seaside Embajador Hotel and a neighboring polo

Court Rules Secretary Can Bar Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the secretary of state has the constitutional power to bar American citizens from traveling to Cuba.

Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the 6-3 decision. There were three separate dissents.

Said Warren for the majority: "The questions for decision are whether the secretary of state is statutorily authorized to refuse to validate the passports of U.S. citizens for travel to Cuba, and, if he is, whether the exercise of that authority is constitutionally permissible."

"We answer both questions in the affirmative."

The court ruled on an appeal by Louis Zemel, a Middlefield, Conn., ski resort operator. He wanted to go to Cuba, he said, to become a better informed citizen.

The State Department refused permission for the trip under a travel ban imposed in January 1961. Zemel sued, but a special U.S. District Court in New Haven ruled against him in a 2-1 vote.

Cambodia Has Broken Relations With U. S.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The national radio announced today Cambodia has decided to break diplomatic relations with the United States.

The radio said Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the chief of state, reported his decision to the Cambodian people in an official message. Contents of the message were not immediately available.

Foreign Minister Koun Wick received the U.S. charge d'affaires to announce the decision, the broadcast said. It was added, however, that a consulate-general could be established at Phnom Penh if the U.S. government so desires.

No Reasons
No reasons were announced for the break. However, relations between Cambodia and the United States long have been tenuous, chiefly because of raids along the border with South Viet Nam. Cambodia blames the attacks on U.S.-Vietnamese forces. Saigon charges Viet Cong guerrillas use Cambodia as a refuge.

Embassy Attacked
Hostile feelings also were aroused in Phnom Penh by a reference in the magazine

Seek End to Civil Strife

Peace Conference Opens in Yemen

KHAMIR, Yemen (AP) — A Middle East peace conference was under way today in this primitive village with none of the usual trappings of modern diplomacy.

There were no chairs, no electricity, no stenographers, and no hotels. Turbaned tribesmen danced in the streets with daggers in their hands.

But the attention of Yemen and other Arab countries was focused on Khamir, 55 miles north of the Yemeni capital of Sanaa. Hundreds of tribesmen and tribal leaders met here to discuss ways of ending the civil war that has plagued Yemen for 2½ years.

Regime Support
Most of the delegates were sheikhs supporting the regime of President Abdullah Al Sallal. Officials said some sheikhs loyal to Imam Mohammed Al Badr, the ousted king whose forces have fought the republicans since 1962, also would attend.

Most of Al Badr's royalists refuse to negotiate until Egypt withdraws its 50,000 troops from Yemen.

Many Yemenis who favor the Sallal regime also are opposed to the Egyptian presence in Yemen.

The conference is not expected to bring peace to Yemen, but it may lay the groundwork for a settlement.

Over the weekend, Khamir prepared for the conference.

Tank trucks began carrying water into the village. Cargos of tinned food, fruit juice and American soft drinks were unloaded in the central square. Four hundred cars and trucks brought the delegates from various parts of Yemen. They were parked in a field on the edge of town.

Congo Bomb's Toll Has Risen to Seven

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The death toll in Saturday night's Leopoldville bombings has risen to seven, with as many as 55 people injured.

Three open air bars in the native quarter of the city were the targets of what officials believe were hand grenades. Police have been maintaining roadblocks around the city since the bombings and several persons have been arrested.

United States Asks Arms Aid Of Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States asked today that Latin-American nations "that are capable of doing so" make their armed forces available in keeping the peace in the Dominican Republic.

The request was made in a resolution drafted for submission to the Organization of American States.

Earlier, at closed meetings of the General Committee of the OAS Conference on Consultation the United States had proposed that countries able to do so make available army, navy or air force units to assist U.S. forces in maintaining a nine-square mile neutrality zone in the strike-torn capital city of Santo Domingo.

Damage Report Expected

Capitol Dome Jarred by Quake

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — The earthquake which jarred the Pacific Northwest last week shook up the 15,300-ton dome on Washington's state Capitol, but the lid stayed put.

It was the second beating from an earthquake for the massive concrete, stone and steel structure. It took its first in the temblor of April 13, 1949. That quake loosened the 180-ton cupola — or birdcage — atop the dome, threatening to send the stone missile plunging down through the Capitol rotunda.

Ex-President Juan Bosch of the Dominican Republic in a taped television interview Sunday, said the revolution was won until the U.S. intervened. He said it is now America's job to bring democracy to his country. (AP Wirephoto)

Nasser Accused of Trying to Seize Arab Leadership

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba, striking back at Arab charges of selling out to Israel, has accused President Gamal Abdel Nasser of trying to seize "exclusive leadership" of the Arab world.

Bourguiba came under fire of Nasser and other Arab leaders after he proposed that the Arab nations end their long feud with Israel through negotiations.

The building was evacuated for nearly two months while the cupola was removed. It took $180,856 and nearly two years to rebuild and strengthen the cupola and replace its heavy stone cap with a metal headpiece 70 times lighter. The new cap emerged unscathed from the quake last Thursday.

This time the damage was to stonework and columns inside and outside the lower portion of the Capitol's 287-foot top hat. Some columns were shifted as much as 1½ inches and cracks were opened in the walls.

Three structural engineers from Seattle were expected to report today on the extent of the damage and what it would cost to repair it.

The quake did an estimated $12.5 billion in scattered damage throughout western Washington and directly or indirectly caused the deaths of seven persons. Three were injured fatally by falling rubble and four suffered fatal heart attacks.

The quake registered 6.6 on the Richter scale of magnitude, compared with a reading of 7 for the 1949 quake.

Money Bills Before House Senate Continues Work on Johnson Voting Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money bills totaling $28.4 billion occupy the House this week while the Senate continues its debate on the administration's voting rights bill.

There will be major side attractions in both branches of Congress, with the House Judiciary Committee pressing for a final vote on its own voting rights bill and the Senate Finance Committee holding hearings on the House-passed medical-health care measure.

Senate leaders hope to reach some crucial decisions during the week on the voting rights measure. House leaders want to clear their chamber's docket so it can consider the companion bill next week.

Jets Blast Railroad
U.S. Navy jets blasted a railroad siding and three boxcars 100 miles south of Hanoi. Groundfire was light and all the planes returned to their carrier.

Other American aircraft bombed suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, including a heavy attack on a Communist-infested zone north of Saigon.

A U.S. official said there were no air raids over North Viet Nam today, presumably because of bad weather.

Defensive Rolls
Stationed in defensive roles, a U.S. spokesman said, the American paratroopers "will free Vietnamese combat troops for offensive operations."

U.S. officials announced that three new Army helicopter companies of 260 men and 25 helicopters arrived over the week end. There are now 12 Army helicopter companies in Viet Nam, two Marine squadrons and several Vietnamese squadrons.

Monsoon Forces India and Pakistan In Unofficial Truce

BY CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI (AP) — An unofficial cease-fire prevailed in the Rann of Kutch today, but India and Pakistan had more than 100,000 troops stretched along their frontiers.

No formal truce has been announced. It appeared, however, that both sides were content to let the guns remain silent until monsoon rains flood the barren desert a couple of weeks from now, making further fighting impossible.

Troop concentrations were reported along other frontiers perilously close to the large population centers of Calcutta and Lahore. There was fear that some minor incident would touch off a major clash.

Calcutta, with 7 million inhabitants, is the largest city on the subcontinent, is less than 50 miles from the East Pakistan frontier Lahore, with a population of nearly 900,000 Pakistanis, is less than 30 miles from the frontier between West Pakistan and India.

Hostile neighbors India and Pakistan have been hostile neighbors since gaining their independence from Britain 8 years ago.

Leaders of both countries fired off warnings and counter-warnings during the weekend while British and American diplomats tried to create an atmosphere for negotiations.

A top Pakistani Foreign Office official, asked in Rawalpindi about prospects for a formal truce, said "Terms for this are being negotiated in a preliminary way."

Pakistan has proposed a simultaneous withdrawal of troops from the Kutch. India reportedly has agreed only to replace its troops with armed border police.

U.S. presidential envoy Henry Cabot Lodge, in New Delhi to explain U.S. policy in Viet Nam, expressed Washington's "grave concern" about the fighting.

Military Aid
American military officers toured Indian and Pakistani lines in the area Sunday to determine whether U.S. military aid equipment had been used in the fighting there.

The Indian government claimed Pakistan used American tanks to attack Indian positions. Pakistan denied the charge and claimed the Indians used American ammunition.

India has received more than $6 billion in U.S. economic and military aid since 1951 and Pakistan more than $5 billion. The military aid equipment was not to be used for fighting between them.

Thousands of members of Pakistan's ruling Muslim League party demonstrated in Karachi Sunday, protesting "the arms rush to India by the United States."

Indian officers complained that "political considerations" had prevented the Indian government from sending reinforcements into the Kutch during the height of the fighting.

"I asked for tanks but New Delhi said no," an Indian field commander told a reporter.

Richland Area Headon Crash Takes 4 Lives

Weekend Toll 10, 254 Road Deaths Recorded in '65

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The headon crash of two cars in Richland County has claimed four lives, raising the Wisconsin weekend traffic toll to 10 and the total for the year to 254, compared with 318 on this date a year ago.

Seven other persons were injured in the Richland County crash, one of them critically and the others seriously.

"It was the worst I've seen," said an investigating officer. "That that survived were hurt so badly we haven't been able to tell how the crash occurred."

Killed in the crash Sunday night were Daniel L. Grimm and Alvin F. Stenner, both 21, and both of rural Viola. Grimm was the driver of one of the cars, a convertible. The crash occurred on Highway 60 about 1 1/4 miles northwest of Muscoda.

Baraboo Man
John Niles, 59, of Baraboo, and his grandson, Danny Sutton, 4, of Portage died later in Richland Center Hospital, where all of the injured were taken.

Danny was the son of Clyde Sutton, 25, the driver of the second car.

The father, his wife, Judy, 24, Danny, and Niles were pinned in the wreckage of their car. Roger Sutton, 3, and his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Niles, 54, were thrown from the auto. Two Niles children, Christine, 14, and Steven, 10, were found in the wrecked car.

Mrs. Sutton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niles.

Anna Marie Paulson, 15, of Soldiers Grove, who was riding with the two young men, also was injured.

Motorcycle Crash
Roger Sutton was listed in critical condition.

James A. Smith and Duane B. Nichols, both 25 and of Milwaukee, were killed Saturday night when their motorcycle went out of control on a curve and hurled them into a tree on Milwaukee's South Side.

Roger J. Egnarski, 23, of rural Pulaski was killed Saturday night when his car struck a culvert along Highway 160 west of Pulaski.

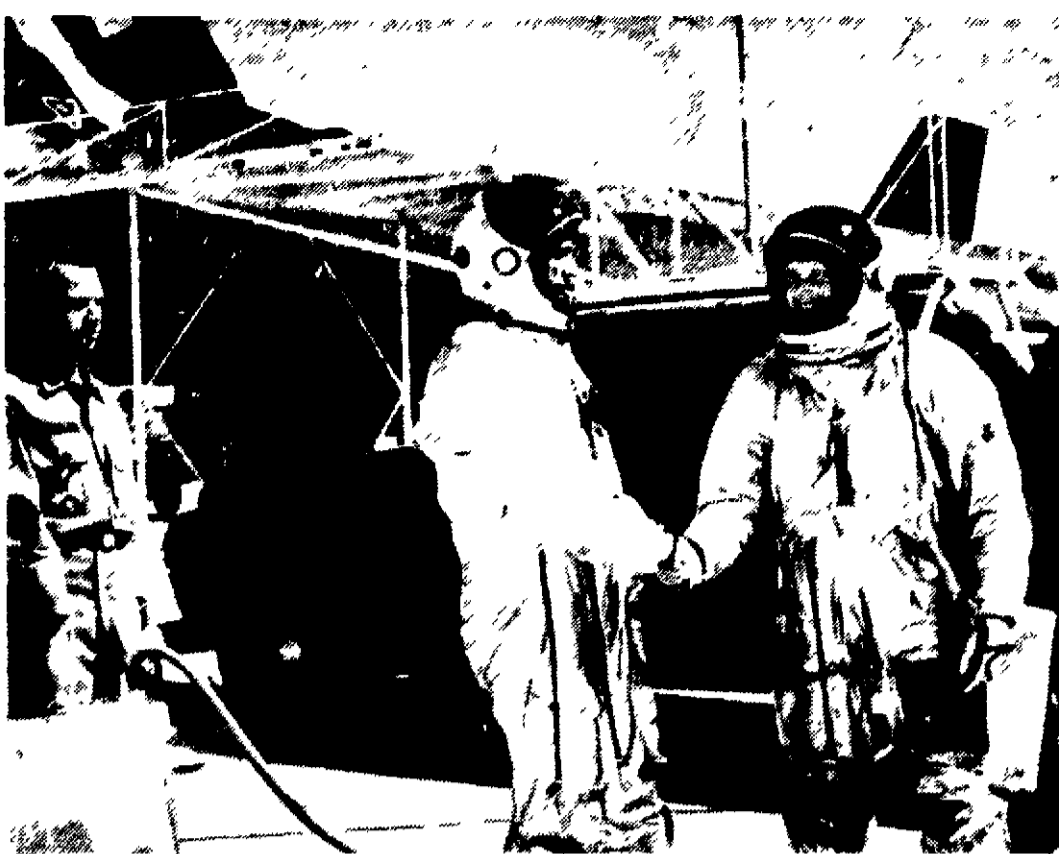

Victims listed earlier were Lorraine Heins, 9 months of Belmont; Jerome Versteegen, 39, Little Chute; and Dwight Zueske, 18, Gresham.

Rollo Rutledge, 59, of Superior died Sunday of a Superintending hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car, Douglas County crash on April 21.

Selma Rights March Cost Set at $510,000

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — It cost the Defense Department $510,000 to protect the Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights marchers, the Pentagon said today.

This cost to nearly $13 million the cost of using federal troops and federalized National Guardsmen in five major civil rights crises dating back to Little Rock in 1957.

The Pentagon said the $510,000 figure covered pay and allowances for 17,000 Alabama National Guardsmen called into federal duty, plus transportation and other expenses in connection with measures taken to protect the voting rights march in late March.

The figure did not take into account the pay and allowances for about 1,000 regular Army military policemen who also were used. The Army has taken the position that these men would be drawing such pay and allowances regardless of what duties they were performing.

Also Excluded
Also excluded were the expenses involved in use of federal marshals and other resources of the Justice Department.

The Alabama National Guard was federalized from March 20 to March 28.

In response to inquiries, the Defense Department also listed the costs of past Defense Department involvement in civil rights crises.

In September 1957, President Dwight D. Eisenhower called up 10,500 Arkansas Air and Army Guardsmen in a clash with Gov. Orval E. Faubus over admitting Negro pupils to Central High School in Little Rock. Federal troops were used.

The operation, extending from September 1957 to May 1958, cost $4,898,000.

In October 1962, the late President John F. Kennedy called out about 8,000 Mississippi Guardsmen during the riot-marked integration of the University of Mississippi. Here, too, sizable regular federal forces were used.

The Pentagon said this federal military operation, which lasted until June 1963, cost $4,364,000.

In June 1963, Kennedy ordered 17,000 Alabama Army and Air Guardsmen into federal service before Gov. George C. Wallace allowed Negroes to enter the University of Alabama.

Three months later, Alabama Guardsmen were back in federal service, this time in a federal-state dispute over public school integration.

The Army spent $3,171,000 for these operations of Alabama National Guardsmen. Other expenses, including communications, transportation and the like, are not included in this figure. The Army said it did not have cost data on these elements.

North Viet Nam Fliers Stay Clear of Raiding U. S. Jets

WITH U.S. 7th FLEET (AP) — American warplanes and Communist jets are frequently within five minutes of each other in the skies over North Viet Nam.

However, since their surprise success in downing two American planes a few weeks ago, the Communist fliers have shown no sign that they were ready to engage in a sky battle with the superior U.S. interceptors.

Before raiding North Vietnamese targets, American pilots get briefings on the presence of MIG jets in Communist skies. These briefings are based on airborne electronic spotting, which has been greatly tightened since the MIGs staged their one-shot attack.

The Communists evidently have grouped their MIGs around Hanoi and daily fly missions over the city and the port of Haiphong.

These cover flights are frequently in the air at the same time U.S. raids are taking place. Although most U.S. raids have been fairly close to the 17th Parallel between north and south Viet Nam, they are often farther north.

At jet speeds, the flying time between the opposing airmen often narrows down to a mere 5 or 10 minutes.

American pilots tend to take the presence of MIG pilots in the skies as a matter of course.

"They've got to get in their flying time the same as we do," said one combat veteran.

Safety Zone
By Washington's orders, American raids so far have spared the Hanoi-Haiphong area. In effect, this has created a sort of privileged sanctuary in the sky above these areas. The MIGs are up there frequently.

American officers will not give intelligence estimates concerning the activity of the small North Vietnamese air force or predict American strikes at it.

However, combat fliers from the aircraft carriers make it no secret that they would like to tangle with the MIGs again.

Illinois, Missouri Await End of Record Mississippi River Flooding

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Soggy dikes held back the powerful thrust of the swollen Mississippi River in the Hannibal, Mo.-Quincy, Ill., area today as residents of other communities up and down the river waited for the worst spring flood in history to run its course.

"A flood of this magnitude is calculated to occur only once in 100 years," the Interior Department reported, confirming that the flood was the biggest on record.

The flood, which began in Minnesota, parts of North Dakota and Wisconsin during March when snow began to melt, has taken 14 lives and caused $150 million damage in five states.

In the Hannibal-Quincy area, the river is on the rise again toward a predicted crest Tuesday.

Families Evacuated
Only 23 families have been evacuated from low-lying areas in Hannibal. About 100 persons have fled their homes in Quincy.

Hannibal has no levee protecting its population of 20,000. The water had begun falling in a 15-block industrial area which has been flooded for about a week and most of the streets are passable.

A broken levee Saturday night five miles south of Quincy, a city of 45,000 took some of the pressure off the Hannibal area.

After the levee break, floodwaters ran 15 feet deep across 7,700 acres of farmland. It increased the amount of land under water in Adams County, Ill., to 25,000 acres. More than 20,000 acres were covered upstream in Henderson County, 70 miles to the north.

When the levee broke, the river began receding.

Another Rise
The Mississippi dropped Saturday night at Quincy from Wednesday's record high of 24.8 feet to 23.5 feet. The high in Hannibal was 24.6 Friday, but it fell to 23.6 early Sunday.

The river began rising again, however, and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a crest Tuesday of 24.7 feet in Quincy and 24.5 feet in Hannibal.

The Mississippi has been over flood stage — which is 16 feet — since April 6.

Upriver from the Quincy-Hannibal area, several small towns were hammered by the floods.

Officials feared that battered levees would not hold in the Illinois towns of Keithsburg, with 963 residents, and in Hull, population 535. Most of Hull's residents have been evacuated.

Gulfport, Ill., was marked only by the peaks of roofs and treetops. The 250 residents fled two weeks ago.

Water receded at the rate of three inches an hour in the Quad Cities area of Davenport, Iowa, and Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill.

Officials said the crisis will be over when the crest passes Quincy and Hannibal and the waters level out in the wider channel of the lower Mississippi.

Government officials said the record water discharge in St. Paul, Minn., exceeded the previous maximum flood in 1952 by 38 per cent.

A spokesman for the Geological Survey in St. Paul said, "during the April 12-21 period at St. Paul, the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers discharged more than 800 billion gallons of water, enough to supply the needs of two cities the size of New York for about a year."

Police Warn Of Prom Night Auto Mishaps

Gay Events Become Nightmares, Says Outagamie Patrol

County police are warning parents and school authorities of impending "gay nights on the town" which may result in highway traffic tragedies.

Outagamie County Police Capt. Ronald Decker said prom night and high school graduations, all within the next 35 days, can be turned into "ghostly nightmares" if precautions are not taken regarding automobiles.

"Many communities make special efforts to hold after-prom activities," Decker said, "but still, year after year, the inevitable happens, and accidents occur."

Decker has suggested to parents that they insist that driving on the two occasions "be held to a minimum."

Parents should check the car to be used by the young driver for condition of lights, brakes, steering and tires.

"Parents should impress on the youngsters that someone will be home all evening, ready to come to drive them home if the driver does not measure up to a safe driver," Decker said.

He suggests that in place of "just driving around," the participants take part in an after prom party or a good, quiet supper at home.

"School officials should make sure that chaperoning personnel know what they are supposed to do — spot trouble, look for drinking, and report trouble makers, all of which may lead to accidents," the policeman said.

Tipsy Driver Assessed $175

Arrest Made by Appleton Police On Wisconsin Ave.

Keith D. Carpenter, 18, route 1, Shiocott, pleaded no contest and was found guilty Friday of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He appeared in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 where he was fined $175.

Carpenter was arrested April 24 by Appleton police on E. Wisconsin Avenue. He was taken to the police station where he was examined by a doctor and where he tested .17 on a drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Boy Confesses To Starting Minor Garage Blaze

A young boy playing with matches in a garage on E. Marquette Street has admitted to fire department authorities he was responsible for a minor blaze in the garage about 5 p.m. Friday.

Firemen were called to the Elmer Kuntzman home, 907 E. Marquette St., to put out the fire which damaged wall studs and a shelf. Firemen used a powder extinguisher and garden hose to put out the fire.

The youth said he lit some matches and put them in some gasoline which was spilled on the floor.

A worried resident in the 1800 block of N. Ullman Street reported to firemen Friday afternoon that children were playing with fire in a vacant lot near her home.

Investigation showed the children were practicing fire procedures for a Boy Scout test and were making fires on a 55 gallon can cover. Firemen said the field was covered with water and was not in danger of burning.

Fought Communism

Sen. McCarthy Praised In Graveside Ceremony

The late Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Appleton, who died eight years ago, was praised at his graveside by radio commentator Bob Siegrist of Madison, at special memorial services Sunday at St. Mary Cemetery. More than 100 persons attended.

Siegrist outlined McCarthy's fights against Communism and criticized those who "are loose in our land, who, like ghouls, continue to reach across this grave with their continuing smears against him."

A motorcade from Milwaukee arrived at the cemetery about 2 p.m., leading a group which has called itself the "Friends of Sen. McCarthy." The group makes an annual pilgrimage to the gravesite.

"Those Who Scoffed" Siegrist said "those who scoffed at McCarthy have only to look to Viet Nam, where, as McCarthy feared, American men fight, bleed and die even as we speak."

He said "those who found it more convenient to scoff at his warning that many in the nation's academic community... were laboring to convert young minds to that force or revolution... have but to look at such campuses as that of the University of Wisconsin."

The radio commentator briefly outlined his fight against alleged Communist influences on the campus. He said the campus influence has reached proportions of "a national scandal which even such liberal organs as the New York Times and the Saturday Evening Post have found themselves compelled to note."

Siegrist said that "as we fully expected, many of the same forces which labored to discredit Joe McCarthy have, from the beginning of our struggle, been laboring to do the same to us."

Siegrist told the graveside visitors that "the world, since

Chilton, Kaukauna New Holstein Water Plans Studied By PSC

MADISON — Plans of the cities of Chilton and Kaukauna for improvements of their water systems and of a New Holstein water rate revision are being studied by the Public Service Commission.

Chilton officials plan to develop an additional well and transmission main, with a new pump house and associated equipment, at a cost of $80,000 to $100,000. The Kaukauna officials have asked for authority to build an elevated water tower of 200,000 gallons capacity and new mains to serve newly annexed areas of the city at a cost of about $180,000, including about $70,000 for the tower.

Youngsters Find Maple Syrup Interesting, Tasty Subject

WAUPACA—A sample of the finished product highlighted the recent maple syrup field trip made by Westwood School kindergartners.

Eagerly awaited since they watched a movie on the sugar-bush harvest, the field trip to the Arlin Elandt and Sons farm, route 1, Weyauwega, had to wait almost until the end of the sap season because of the poor weather.

Mrs. Elandt showed the children how a small piece of outer bark is removed from a tree, a hole drilled and a spile inserted. She also demonstrated how the Arlin and his wife have been cooking syrup for the last nine years.

This is the third year West-gathering by Elandt's ancestors wood kindergartners and their teacher, Mrs. Margaret Paschke, have watched the maple plastic containers now used.

New London Sewage Plant Addition to Cost $120,000

Federal Aid Could Pay 30 Per Cent

NEW LONDON — A $120,000 addition will be required to bring the New London sewage treatment plant in line with the city's current and projected needs, the city council was told at a special meeting Friday with the consulting engineer.

Robert Jones, Donehue and Associates, Sheboygan, presented two plans to expand the plant which has become overloaded by increases in population and industrial growth.

The present plant has one rock filter system 72 feet in diameter. One alternative would be to build a filter tank 97 feet in diameter. It also would be necessary to divert the drainage ditch in a different direction. New pumps to recirculate into the new rock filter tank also would be needed.

Least Odor The other alternative is construction of a 37 by 15-foot activated sludge tank.

Of the two, the activated sludge would have the least odor problems, Jones said.

Other Work Improvements suggested with either system were a meter on the waste sludge pipe, meter and valve to control flow to aeration tanks, sludge heater and boiler combination and an excess gas burner.

The council will decide Tuesday which type operation the engineering firm should design. Members appeared to favor the activated sludge addition.

Jones said plans had to be completed before July 1 and be submitted to the federal government for a grant. The government would pay about 30 per cent of the cost.

The plant on the western edge of the city along the Wolf River. Prevailing westerly winds have caused many city residents to complain of the odors.

Plans for the addition should be adequate to meet the city's needs until 1985.

1966 Start B. J. Hartman, Donohue representative, said action on the application for a federal grant would not be made until the fall and it would be well into 1966 before any construction on the plant would begin.

Last November the State Board of Health ran tests to determine the waste volume emanating from the city plant, the Borden Co. and the Hamilton Canning Co.

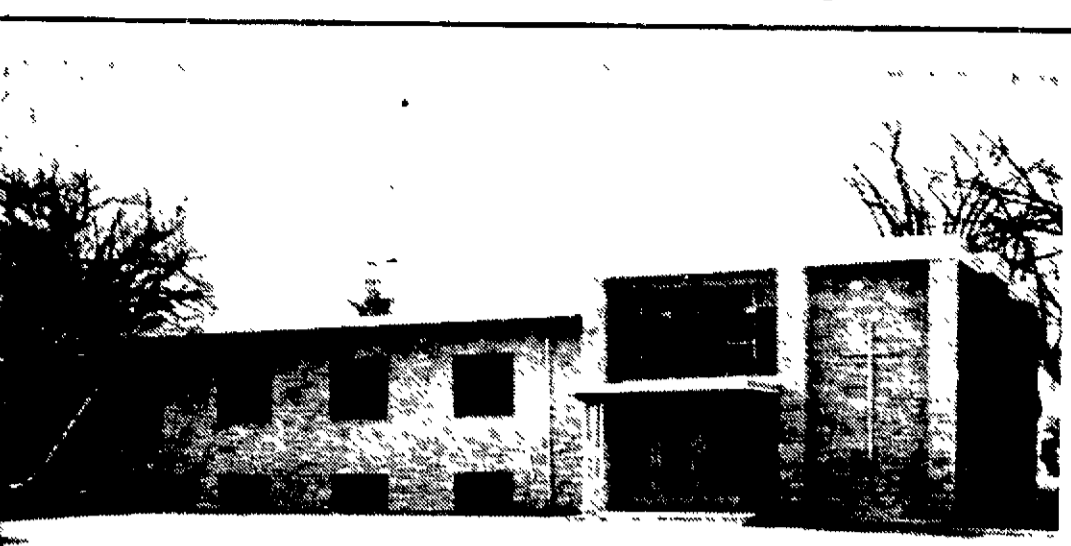

The board of health was asked if it had any plans of having Quality Packing House placed on the city's treatment system. No such move is imminent, council members were informed.

filling out questionnaires last spring and did not go on to college. At the sessions, these graduates will be asked to furnish information relative to job satisfaction, high school study which helped them in obtaining jobs and carrying out assigned duties.

Goal of the program and the follow up is to strengthen high school programs for the non-college-bound student and to assist guidance people in making plans for the group.

The schedule includes these high schools: Neenah and Menasha, 7:30 p.m. May 11; Neenah High School; Kimberly, 7 p.m. May 11; Kaukauna, 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. May 13; Wittenberg, 7 p.m. May 11; Ripon, May 11; Berlin, May 12; Fond du Lac, May 12; DePere, May 11; Winneconne, 7 p.m., May 11; Preble, May 12; Appleton, 7:30 p.m., May 10; New London, 8 p.m. May 12; Southern Door, May 10, and Oshkosh, May 10.

The research and meetings that week are based on the need for and desire of involved schools to improve their non-college bound programs, according to James Hillestad, executive secretary of the FVCS and staff member at Wisconsin State University—Oshkosh.

A total of 3,266 graduates were originally involved in the cooperating schools. Of this number, 1,708 went on to college or other schools, 222 entered military service, 1,245 are employed, and 241 are unemployed. The unemployed figure includes married women who are now housewives.

Mother's Day MAY 9th

LANGSTADT'S, INC.

APPLETON RE 4-2645 — 233 E. COLLEGE AVE. — NEENAH — PA 2-6485

Mother's Day MAY 9th

MADISON — Gov. Warren P. Knowles today ended a four-month search for director of the State Department of Resource Development with the appointment of Paul A. Pratt, a 69-year-old retired business executive who has recently served as vice president for public relations and development of Beloit College.

Pratt told a news conference in the executive office that he is a Republican and is "thrilled" about the opportunity that the governor has given him.

But he said he has no immediate comment or announcements about his plans for the state agency which the Republican state administration intends to use as the spearhead of a campaign to expand the industrial economy of the state and to change the national image about Wisconsin as a place to do business.

Predicts Boom Year
Knowles said the last three and a half months have shown a "remarkable" increase in new business establishments in Wisconsin and predicted a "boom year for the state."

Besides 76 new industrial starts and business expansion decisions this year, he has been informed that "other industries are looking at Wisconsin now," Knowles said.

The governor declared there has been "a positive change of attitude of business people toward Wisconsin."

Knowles also said that he will soon announce the names of

Commends Wiggins

The governor also commended David Wiggins, for the last four months acting director of the state department, by naming him as a civil servant and took over the directorship when Frank Zeidler, a Democratic administration appointee two years ago, quit upon the installation of the Republican governor in January.

Pratt started his business career in Wisconsin Rapids and later held top positions in the Borden Co. and had other business interests in Milwaukee. He is a former head of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce and lately has directed a building expansion program at Beloit College where he graduated in 1920.

Mediation Rejected In Plumbers Strike

Union Turns Down Contractors' Request for Impartial Council

The strike of union plumbers and steamfitters in the Fox Cities region entered its fifth week today with management requesting the dispute be submitted to an impartial industrial relations council.

Rejecting the request was Local 458 of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Pipefitting Industry Trades.

A spokesman for the Central Valley Plumbing and Heating Contractors Association, comprised of about 20 major firms in this region, said the union gave no explanation for its rejection when both sides held their last bargaining session at the Conway Motor Hotel Friday.

'Local Matter'
The answer came today in the form of a statement by Roland Choudoir, business representative for Local 458, who said:

The dispute over a 1965 contract is strictly a local matter between the contractors and Local 458. We see no need to call in an outsider and have no objections to bargaining in good faith."

The industrial relations council was established sometime ago by the National Association of Plumbing Contractors, Mechanical Contractors of America and the Plumbers and Steamfitters International Union to consider disputes involving wages, hours and working conditions.

The makeup of the council is four representatives of management and four of the union international.

dispute to the council and have a third outside party that knows something about the industry consider the facts in this dispute," the Central Valley spokesman said.

Joint Petition Needed

In order to have the dispute go to the national council, both sides would have to petition jointly and agree in advance to abide by the panel's decision.

At present the parties in the local labor dispute are meeting under the direction of a federal mediator. Another session is scheduled for sometime this week.

A stipulation tied in with submitting a dispute to the national industrial relations council is that the strikers would have to go back to work while the council considered briefs and conducted a hearing.

Plumbers and steamfitters here walked off the job March 31, the date the contractors terminated the 1964 contract.

Charge Green Bay Youth in Shooting

'Homicide by Reckless Conduct' Count Brought; 20-Year-Old Dies

Special to The Post-Crescent
GREEN BAY — An alleged "Russian roulette" game here Saturday night has resulted in a charge of homicide by reckless conduct against a 19-year-old youth, prepared by Brown County authorities.

Saturday night's incident resulted in the pistol shot death of Bernard Johanski, 20, 1358 Cass St., Green Bay.

Being charged in Johanski's death is Daniel Van Boxel, 19, also of Green Bay.

Both Johanski and Van Boxel were passengers in a car driven by Van Boxel's twin brother, David, when the shooting allegedly occurred about 6:15 p.m. in the 800 block of Cass Street, only seven blocks from Johanski's home.

'Russian Roulette'
(In "Russian roulette" one bullet is placed in a cylinder of a revolver, the cylinder is spun and the trigger is pulled with the weapon aimed at the head.)

Lt. Fred Mathews, head of the police department's juvenile division, said a .22 caliber pistol and a rifle were found in the Van Boxel car.

According to police reports, the youths spent a lot of time shooting the weapons at targets and other things Saturday afternoon.

Earlier Saturday afternoon, police received a report from a motorist that his car had been shot at while he was driving east of Green Bay.

Authorities refused to state whether or not there was any connection between the motorist's complaint and reports of alleged "indiscriminate shooting" by the Van Boxels and Johanski.

Another Asian Spat

The most recent clash between India and Pakistan is another in the series of conflicts between the two countries which reflect bad will and lack of trust more than any real basis for dispute. However, if the terms of separation and independence had been more clearly drawn almost two decades ago, the differences would probably not be so severe. But the truth is that two hostile nations like Moslem Pakistan and Hindu India, with religion as well as nationality to spur opposition, are going to have spat until their leaders really determine that small battles are too dangerous to risk.

The current dispute is over the Rann of Kutch, a salt water marsh on the border of the two nations. India claims that Pakistan overstepped her boundaries and is the aggressor. But the countries don't agree as to where the border is. India claims the entire marsh while Pakistan says it is really an inland sea and that the area is split in half. The fighting has been on the north well inside what Pakistan claims as the border. In a few weeks, spring monsoons will turn the tidal marsh into open water so the immediate fracas may have to halt.

It may seem ridiculous to go to war over a swamp although there are reports that there may be oil under the waters. But neither India nor Pakistan, while advising peace around the world for everyone else, is willing to take the compromise measures which would end their own border clashes. The United Nations worked out a cease-fire in the Kashmir some years ago but the dispute over control is no closer to a solution. Feelings in both countries are heightened by the unannounced but obvious taking of sides in the intra-party fight between the Red Chinese and the Russians. Even their current annoyance with the United States has not been able to push Pakistan and India closer together.

Colonial control in many parts of the world was unfair and sometimes even tyrannical. But it managed to keep the peace in some areas, such as between Indians and Pakistanis and the Greek and Turkish Cypriotes. These peoples have not yet understood the responsibilities of managing their own affairs so as to reduce the dangers of conflict. They are reluctant to turn to the United Nations since they may not agree with its decisions and of course it really has no arm to enforce them as colonial powers did in the past.

We can't expect instant maturity from those who have been treated as children for generations. But only when the former colonial peoples themselves come to realize that the responsibility for building stable governments and economies is as much theirs now as is their right to be independent, will the petty, small conflicts be mediated without resort to violence.

The Blood Center Is 10 Years Old

Next Thursday the Community Blood Center will complete 10 years of service to the citizens of Appleton and Outagamie County. It can look back over that decade of service with considerable pride.

When the center was started back in 1955 there was some doubt that such a self-sustaining, non-profit service could "make it" here, and especially that it could continue after the enthusiasm of its original backers had worn off. But the facts speak for themselves.

Key people in the success of the Blood Center are the more than 4,200 "Family Plan" members. Under the plan, the member promises to give blood when it is needed; in return, when he or a member of his family needs blood, he gets it and pays only a service charge. In a way it is like insurance; the blood one gives is the premium, and the benefits can be very great in a time of personal need. Over 18,000 people in the city and county are now covered by this "insurance."

During the 10 years more than 17,000 units of blood have been drawn at the center, and not once has the center found it necessary to use a paid donor. Over 1,200 Family Plan members have received blood both here and when away from home (through a cooperative arrangement with other blood organizations throughout the country). The number of units provided a member in a year's time has ranged from one to 73.

The Blood Center has been a success first because the concept is right, and secondly because of the unfaltering loyalty of its board members, staff and volunteer workers. Certainly deserving special mention are Miss Helen McGrath, executive director, and Dr. Harold Gross, medical director, both of whom have served through the entire decade.

This kind of cooperative citizen effort is one of the reasons so many people call this community "a wonderful place to live." We salute the Community Blood Center on its 10th birthday, and hope it has many more.

The Highway Safety Bills

Developments in the legislature to date indicate that there is no great enthusiasm among our representatives there for the enactment of the series of bills introduced in the earliest days of the session on behalf of Governor Knowles and intended to stiffen the Wisconsin highway safety laws.

If the legislature's hesitation relates to uncertainty about the merits of the governor's propositions, it is understandable. Governor Knowles is aware, we are confident, that there are honest reservations among many highway users, even those as deeply concerned about our ghoulish highway accident record as is he, about the merits of some of his proposals.

But there appear to be other reasons for the legislature's desultory reception of what must be considered the most courageous approach ever shown by any state administration leader to the problem of reducing the awful toll of life and property on the highways.

One of them is very likely indifference. Mr. Azim of Grant County is a promising young lawmaker. But it is unusual for a governor to select for the floor leadership of a major administration program a legislator of such youthfulness and inexperience. Our unhappy deduction under the circumstances is that the more experienced men of higher rank in the two legislative houses, including the chosen floorleaders of the governor's own party, were not available for the task.

There has also been an unfortunate disposition among some of the Democrats to draw party lines on this issue which should be as far removed from the ordinary party conflicts as any one now before the lawmakers.

Democrats have grumbled that the governor has omitted from his program the matter of providing more enforcement sinews, and specifically, the long-repeated request of the State Motor Vehicle Department for more manpower to patrol the 12,000 miles of state trunk roads including the heavily travelled new Interstate routes. We are inclined to agree that the governor missed an opportunity there to round out his program, and to impress the public with the earnestness of his intentions. But if the Democrats are so confident about the merits of more enforcement strength, the solution is a simple one. They control the state assembly. Let them sponsor such a bill and put it to a roll call. Then the governor's party in the state senate will have the challenge, or the responsibility for defeating it. We have a hunch that if it came down to such a choice Governor Knowles would accept more enforcement manpower as a logical part of his demand for a strengthening of the laws.

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 6, 1865

Appleton was well, but not numerously represented at the funeral pageant (Lincoln procession) in Chicago, May 1.

On Sunday some of our delegation went to hear the discourse of the Rev. Dr. Tiffany, one of the most eloquent Divines in the North-West. Their risibilities were somewhat disturbed after the reading of the Scripture Lesson, by the announcement that "Prayer will be offered by the Rev. Reeder Smith, of Wisconsin!"

A wag says: He prayed to the audience almost as well as if he were a reverend!

The funeral obsequies at Chicago were far more imposing than at any other place. The account fills 10 columns of that admirably conducted Times. Never was there such an imposing outpouring of people from the North-West, and never was greater homage paid to the living or dead by a free people.

Allied forces were concentrating on repelling the German drive toward Trondheim in Norway as New Reich troops were reported to have occupied Kvan. Reports from Narvik, on the northern front, said fighting there had developed into guerilla warfare with the British bombarding at intervals to prevent the Germans from sending reinforcements over the railroad terminating at Narvik.

W. E. Schlafer was elected delegate and Jack Liebi alternate to the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Federation of Stamp Clubs at Racine. They were to represent the Appleton Philatelic Society.

Capt. James H. Balliet, Appleton, was elected vice commander of the Wisconsin Commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars, at Milwaukee the previous day. Maj. Charles A. Green, Appleton, was re-elected regimental adjutant, Gen John G. Salsman, Wauwata, was named secretary-treasurer and Col Henry Weed, Oshkosh, judge advocate. Col. Francis E. McGovern, former Wisconsin governor, was elected commander to succeed Col. Roy F. Farrand, Delafield.

Members of First Presbyterian Church, Neenah, chose Mrs. S. N. Pickard chairman of its new building committee with her assistants Mrs. C. B. Clark, Lyall C. Stimp, Charles J. Madison, Mrs. S. F. Shattuck and Mrs. H. G. Davies.

President Seems More Popular In South Than His Programs

BY MAX FREEDMAN

CHARLESTON, S.C. — If a brief sampling of Southern opinion be any guide, President Johnson is more popular in the South than is his program. The people who like him because he is a Southerner just about cancel out the other group who think he has wandered far from Southern ideals.

Freedman

This leaves a large group able to make a fair judgment on the evidence. Their verdict is that he has grown in stature and in leadership during his months in the White House. A quiet satisfaction exists at the way he has established his effectiveness in Washington.

One hears it said many times that the President is now free to grow to the full measure of his ability as a national leader. The inevitable limitations which hedged him about as a Southern senator and as majority leader no longer exist. He is now originating the legislation instead of trying to push through people's proposals through Congress. His sense of easy mastery comes from the prudent use of power.

CRITICAL OF POLICIES

But this favorable verdict does not extend to his program. With distressing frequency, the same people who praise the President for his personal leadership are critical of many of his policies. They fear a still greater concentration of power in the remote and inhospitable government in Washington. On this subject they speak with a passion and urgency which are the marks of deep conviction, even if not of accurate knowledge.

Their criticism is given a cutting edge by their conviction that many parts of the President's program are sliding through Congress after lazy and inadequate debate. Their censure falls only in part on the weakened ranks of the Republican Party. As they see it, the huge Democratic majority permitted the most extensive debate without endangering the ultimate fate of legislation. Instead, there has been an air of urgency to establish a sort of legislative record for the speed with which bills have been passed. There is general disappointment ment at the tired and superficial debate in Congress on the poverty program, the education bill, the medical care provisions, and the voting legislation.

Neither the President nor the members of his Cabinet can accept this criticism. The President knows that power cannot be hoarded without running the risk of being lost. The time for him to use his power most effectively is in the first year of his first term. Nothing will swerve him from that rule.

As for the Cabinet members, they can be excused for being

Atlanta Paper Comments on Antigo Vote

From Exchanges

An interesting chapter in the fluoridation story has been written by Antigo, a community of nearly 10,000 in northern Wisconsin.

Antigo's story, stretching over a 15-year period, is one of fluoridation, de-fluoridation and re-fluoridation.

For 11 years, Antigo had a fluoridated water supply. Then in 1960 it voted to de-fluoridate.

Since that decision, however, Antigo has learned something about the value of fluoridation. A State Health department survey showed that tooth decay among Antigo's children had increased dramatically since the decision to de-fluoridate. Among kindergarten children, tooth decay was up 92 per cent.

So Antigo voted earlier this month to resume fluoridation. The vote was 1,822 to 1,685. And last week the Antigo city council gave final approval to re-fluoridation by an 11-1 vote. The council ordered that the necessary steps to fluoridate the water supply be taken as quickly as possible.

Antigo is a city with firsthand knowledge of what fluoridation will (and will not) do. Antigo acted unwisely when it voted to discontinue fluoridation. But Antigo had the wisdom to reverse itself when it found out what was happening to the dental health of its children.—Atlanta, Ga., Constitution

Fox River Valley Is Crucial Battleground In Wisconsin Politics

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—There are signs that the sinews of party politics in Wisconsin are becoming stronger than they have been in modern times.

Wyngaard

Recent events in Democratic organization politics may be symptomatic.

At the last meeting of the Democratic State Committee there was an appeal involving the legitimacy of a county organization election in Brown County. Reporters in the back of the hall were at first incredulous when the statistics recorded for the Green Bay party caucus were reported. About 1,150 men and women, dues-paying members of the Brown County organization, were recorded as voting in the contested election for county Democratic party officers. That would be a handsome turnout in such a large county as Milwaukee. Even in Dane County, where the Democratic organization is a substantial and fervent one, that would have been a cheerful event from the Democrats' point of view.

One explanation for the extraordinary Brown County party membership growth recently reported is local dispute about the selection of a new Green Bay postmaster, who will be chosen by the party organization according to the classical patronage rules. But even if half of the high membership total was attributed to the impact of the post office contest, the county membership total would be impressive.

WHAT'S GOING ON

The patronage lubricant is a useful one in party organization. Its force is probably involved in many of the other and more frequent contests about the validity of local party elections in districts where the Democrats used to regard themselves as fortunate if they could find a volunteer to head their local party committee. It is not only the fact of patronage available now from the national administration, but the apparent promise of patronage control for an indefinite period that is contained in the whopping defeat of the Republicans in national politics last fall.

But there are also signs of more rank and file interest in political party organizations on the basis of conviction, and interest, and philosophical leanings, in both parties.

Comparative statistics on the numbers of men and women in the state who are activists in party work are not available. Perhaps they would not be especially meaningful if they were at hand. A dues-paying party member may or may not be productive in terms of party work. Yet the fact of dues payment is encouraging to the party organization leaders and there has been evidence of a growth of such participation in the Republican local organizations as well as in the newer Democratic campaign machine.

COMPARATIVE MOVEMENT

An educated guess would have it that there are probably more Republicans who regard themselves as party workers than there are dues-paying Democrats. But the balance may be changing, according to the evidence of substantial recent gains by the Democrats.

Republican organization strength remains basically oriented to the rural sections of the state, and especially the smaller cities and villages, and the urban Fox Valley. Republican organization losses have been most painful and important in the larger cities in southern Wisconsin. It is a fair generalization that if the Republicans started losing strength in the Fox River Valley, the only urban district in which the party has been relatively strong lately, the Democrats may hope for a firm establishment of their power in Wisconsin.

It is in that context that the special organization efforts in the Valley by the Democrats in the last few years must be viewed. The Democrats stand in the same relation to the Valley urban vote as the Republicans do in relation to Milwaukee County. If the Republicans could gain a few percentage points in Milwaukee they could secure their state administration next year. Democrats, conversely, know that if they can erode the Republican strength by a few points in the Valley they can defeat the Republicans for statehouse control.

Fallacy: Computers Are Not Intelligent

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

One of the great fallacies of today is the widespread belief that the computer is "intelligent"—perhaps more intelligent than most people. In point of fact, the computer is extremely stupid, rather than intelligent.

Harris

What would you think of a person who knew only what you told him? Who believed everything that you told him? Who blindly obeyed every order you gave him? Who could not invent or discover anything for himself, but must depend implicitly upon someone else to provide him with the basic facts?

Such a person—if one existed—would be virtually an idiot, no matter how well he could count, or combine, or remember every scrap of information he has been given. Such a person would truly be what Aristotle called "a natural slave."

Except for the mentally defective, there are no such persons—for even a small child uses his own judgment, his sense of discrimination, his independent sensory apparatus, to cope with the world. Even a child will not believe everything you tell him, or blindly obey every order you command.

For "intelligence," if it is to have any meaning at all, must mean the ability to make free decisions based on a personal value-system.

The computer has no value system. A pebble is just as "important" to it as a production line. An atom bomb has no more "meaning" to it than a baseball. A population figure is just as relevant, or irrelevant, to it as the number of cucumbers on a peacock's tail. Everything is the same as everything else to a computer—and thus nothing is superior or inferior, better or worse.

It is, indeed, the very stupidity of the computer that makes it such a useful tool. It does exactly what it is asked to do, and no a thing more. It is the perfect servant, or slave, if you will. Nothing is omitted and nothing is added; there are no deficiencies and no superfluties. This is because the computer does not have a mind of its own.

How can a thing that does not have a mind of its own be considered "intelligent"? It cannot be, and should not be. There is no danger that the computers will begin to act like men; there is every danger that men will begin to worship the computers and imitate their blind, quantitative method of dealing with masses of facts and data.

Our conflicting value-systems cause most of the trouble in human society—but without them, we would not have a human society at all. Our task is to refine and reconcile these systems, not to abolish them in favor of some statistical deity that can measure the "what" but can never tell us the "why." Only human intelligence can do this.

The area of rebel operations reportedly covers about 15 blocks, a zone which constitutes the entire commercial section of the capital.
Among the most frequently mentioned known Dominican Communists said to be operating with the rebels are Fidelio Despradel, a leading figure in the old 14th of June Movement, a Castroite organization; and Asdrubal Dominguez, former president of the University of Santo Domingo student body.
President Johnson said in a radio address Sunday night the rebellion "took a tragic turn. Communist leaders, many of them trained in Cuba, seeing a chance to increase disorder, to gain a foothold, joined the revolution. They took increasing control, and what began as a popular democratic revolution, committed to democracy and social justice, very shortly moved and was taken over and really seized and placed into the hands of a band of Communist conspirators."
The army leaders of the rebellion said they were fighting to return ousted President Juan Bosch to power. But former U.S. Ambassador John Bartlow Martin, in Santo Domingo in a semi-official capacity, told newsmen that he was convinced the uprising had been completely taken over by Castroite Communists.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

U. S. Fighting Reds On Two Continents

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is now in a showdown with communism on two continents. In both cases there has been criticism of this country. In both cases President Johnson did a lot of explaining.

In Asia the climax came slowly, starting back in the 1950s with aid for the South Vietnamese government. Then this country sent military "advisers." Now U.S. forces in Viet Nam are totally at war with the Communists.

The pace was lots faster in Latin America, starting as a rescue mission last Wednesday and by Sunday night becoming a struggle against Communists in the Dominican Republic.

When Johnson went on nationwide television and radio last Wednesday night to explain why he was sending Marines into the revolt-torn Dominican Republic, he said the reason was to rescue Americans. He said nothing about communism.

Castro Suspect
But very quickly administration sources, unnamed, were being quoted as saying they were suspicious that Fidel Castro had a hand in the rebellion.

The revolt, begun by some young army officers, was against the three-man junta which, never elected by the people, had been running the country since 1963 when the elected president, Juan Bosch, was thrown out.

He had been the first freely elected president since dictator Rafael Trujillo took over the country as his private domain in 1930. He was assassinated in 1961.

Between then and Bosch's election in early 1963 there had been four governments and unrest. The army-backed junta which tossed out Bosch tore up the constitution and disbanded the Congress.

Suspend Relations
At first the United States suspended diplomatic relations but within a few months lifted the suspension and since that time has put more than $60 million in aid into the Dominican Republic, run by the junta.

The young army officers' revolt last week got twisted when navy and air force leaders turned against them. The revolt wasn't crushed but got worse. The rebels were demanding the return of Bosch.

More American troops were sent into the Republic after Johnson's Wednesday talk. On Friday he went on the air again, explaining again the troops had been sent in to protect Americans. But this time he added a new element.

He said "there are signs that people trained outside the Dominican Republic are seeking to gain control" of the revolution. But he still didn't mention Communists. But he got close to it.

He said the United States would "never depart from its commitment for the preservation of the right of all the free people of this hemisphere to choose their own course without falling prey to international conspiracy from any quarter."

Unfavorable Reaction
There was a good deal of unfavorable reaction around the world to the American action, and particularly in Latin America where there were demonstrations in Chile and Panama.

If the revolt was crushed the right-wing junta would still be running the show in the Dominican Republic.

Then last Saturday night at 11 o'clock Johnson issued a statement saying, without mentioning Trujillo's name, that no one wanted to return to the brutal dictatorship of the past.

Meanwhile, unnamed sources within the administration were telling newsmen that about 58 prominent Communists or supporters of Castro were directing the rebel fighting.

And in the Dominican Republic a former U.S. ambassador, John Bartlow Martin, said he was convinced the uprising had been completely taken over by Castroite Communists. He wouldn't explain any further.

No Influence
But the Washington Post correspondent there said many foreign diplomats in the Dominican Republic thought the Communists taking part in the revolt represented the noisiest element but had no dominant influence in it.

The United States continued to send in troops until by Sunday night it had 9,500 there. Sunday night Johnson, as if trying to answer critics anywhere, went on the air again, this time for a half hour.

He explained all over again the troops went in to rescue Americans but now he finally reached the point of linking communism to the revolt. He said they had taken it over. Many, he said, without mentioning a number, had been trained in Cuba.

Now, he said, the American goal in the Dominican Republic is "to help prevent another Communist state in this hemisphere."

At first the United States suspended diplomatic relations but within a few months lifted the suspension and since that time has put more than $60 million in aid into the Dominican Republic, run by the junta.

Tass Says Johnson Makes False Charge Of Red Infiltration

MOSCOW (AP) — Tass Saturday accused President Johnson of making a false allegation of Communist infiltration in the Dominican Republic revolt.

The Soviet news agency quoted Johnson's statement that there are signs "people trained outside the Dominican Republic are seeking to gain control."

Birnbaum Student Receives $1,200 Grant At DECA Convention

Recreation Farmer's Best New 'Cash Crop'

BY SYLVIA PORTER
A Massachusetts apple-grower recently bulldozed his orchards, installed a ski lift and turned his farm into a profitable ski resort.
An Alabama farmer converted his entire dairy farm into a golf course, fishing ponds, play-ground, softball fields, etc.—and doubled his yearly income in the process.
In Custer County, Neb., 250 farmers have in the past few years invited pheasant hunters from all over the U. S. to hunt in their fields. The farmers have boarded sportsmen for $10 a day, charged daily hunting fees—and netted $11,000 in a single season.

Porter
An Iowa farmer last year switched 58 acres of cropland into a pond stocked with bass. He also created a sandy beach, turned a windmill into a diving tower and made a snack bar out of a cow barn. His tourist business was so successful that seven other Iowa farmers now are converting part of their farms into recreation areas.
Farm Vacations
“Farm vacations” are becoming increasingly popular from coast to coast as hundreds of farmers open their doors to tourists.
Instead of staying at hotels and motels, thousands of city dwellers are today choosing the pastoral make-your-own-bed simplicity of the farm—complete with home-baked bread, cow-milking and egg-collecting for the children. This spring thousands of U. S. farmers and rural landowners will be “planting” a brand new cash crop—recreation of every description from baseball to bird-watching.
“Golf courses are replacing cotton fields, barns are becoming vacation cabins, duck blinds crouch at the edge of rice fields, and tents are being pitched in farm woodlands,” Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman reports in the May issue of the Occupational Quarterly, published today.
Behind this dramatic development—which surely will gain momentum in the years ahead—are two basic facts.
Basic Facts
First, the small farmer is being relentlessly squeezed out of the economic mainstream of our nation. Just in the past decade, 12 million have been removed from the American landscape, leaving today's 3.5 million farms. By 1970 the total will be down to two million.
Second, leisure is now one of our nation's fastest-growing industries. In 1964 we spent $24 billion on recreational activities, five times the amount we spent as recently as 1940. Conversion of farms to recreation facilities is an obvious way to boost the small farmer's shrinking income.
“Under the right conditions,” says the Agriculture Department.

Schools Get $5.5 Million For Buildings

UW Will Receive Largest of Nine Federal Grants

MADISON (AP)—The allocation of $5.5 million in federal funds to nine Wisconsin higher education institutions was approved Friday by the State Academic Facilities Commission.
The grants, which must be approved by the U. S. Office of Education, will pay one-third of the cost of new campus buildings. The schools are expected to have the funds by July 1.
Most of the money—$4,165,820—will go to six four-year colleges and universities. They are:
University of Wisconsin at Madison, $1,018,960 for a new language building; Platteville State University, $898,300 for an engineering-science building; River Falls State University, $796,658 for an agriculture-science building; Marquette University in Milwaukee, $711,738 for a chemistry building.
Science Building
Beloit College, $542,160 for a science building, and Mt. Senario College in Ladysmith, $197,911 for a general classroom building.
The remaining funds went to three two-year institutions:
University of Wisconsin center in Wauskesha County, $432,752; University of Wisconsin center in Rock County, $364,333; and Milwaukee Institute of Technology, $539,169.

Business Thief Often Trusted Firm Member

'Reliable' Workers Able to Steal, Says Investigator

BY JACK LEFLER
NEW YORK (AP) — A thief in a business firm is more likely to be a trusted employee than an ordinary worker.
That's the conclusion of Saul D. Astor, president of Management Safeguards, Inc., a nationwide protective and investigative agency.
The reason is that a trusted employee is in a better position to steal without detection.
Motivations usually are to finance drinking, gambling and indiscretions.
Astor, whose firm has been ferreting out thieves for eight years, estimates that internal thefts accounts for a $1 billion loss yearly to industrial and retail establishments.
Going through his files, Astor came up with this example of a trusted employee's thievery:
Changed Reports
The manager of a discount store with a volume of $5 million a year altered receiving reports to indicate that the store received much more merchandise than was actually delivered. He was in collusion with a vendor who paid him one-half of the excess payment. This store manager also stole heavily on Sundays, when he loaded up his own automobile.
Management safeguards discovered that the manager had opened a store of his own in his wife's name and that he had stocked and financed it with the money and merchandise taken from his employer's store.
This dishonest store manager had been a close friend of the owner of the discount chain for 15 years and entertained him at his home whenever the owner was in town.

Garment Firm

Here's another:
A New York City garment manufacturing organization had a factory in the South. It appointed as head of the factory one of the most respectable citizens of the community, who was recommended by the bank and by previous employers and who was regarded as a brilliant production engineer.
Under personal pressure for money, the plant manager first started pocketing cash sales to employees and outsiders.
Then he made arrangements whereby he would receive large sums of money in return for destroying all copies of invoices and shipping records for merchandise going to customers in collusion with him.
Torn Up
The New York office was aware that certain invoice numbers were missing but was always told by the plant manager that they had been voided out and torn up.
A Management Safeguards undercover operative, assigned to the plant as a shipping clerk, became aware of the plant manager's activities and he admitted theft exceeding $100,000.
Astor says his company assigns operatives who pose as everything from porters to department managers.
“Normally we can locate a problem and bring it to conclusion in 60 to 90 days,” he says.
